THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 23, 1869.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE TREASURY.

It is estimated at the Treasury Department that the saving to the Government resulting from the reduction of the force in that department alone, exclusive of those dismissed from the Printing Bureau, is $50,000 per month. Several more removals are to be made upon the return of the Secretary to Washington.

MODIFICATION OF INCOME TAX.

A special states: The movement alluded to some time ago favoring a modification of the laws affecting incomes, has assumed a more formidable and general character. The plan proposed is to increase the tax on whisky to one dollar per gallon, which, it is claimed, will realize $8,000,000 if the means now within the reach of the Revenue Bureau for the prevention of fraud shall be adopted. From tobacco at least $30,000,000 can be realized; from stamps, with a modification of the present law, say $10,000,000; from fermented liquors, $10,000,000; from licences, $10,000,000, and then from the modified income tax but $15,000,000 would be required to make a total of $155,000,000, an amount equal to Secretary Boutwell's estimate for the expenditures for the present fiscal year. The plan is to confine the income tax to the tax on interest paid on the national debt, the five per cent. to be deducted when the interest is paid. This will realize $6,255,000, without a dollar expense incurred in the collection. The balance it is proposed to raise by taxing incomes derived from surplus property embraced in stocks of banks, railways and corporations, and from interest paid on bonds of such corporations.

CABINET MEETING.

It is not believed any matters of national importance will be considered at the Cabinet meeting on Friday.

REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The Internal Revenue receipts to-day were $701,000.

HALIFAX.

Arrival of Prince Arthur and His Formal Reception.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HALIFAX, August 22.—Prince Arthur arrived this morning in the City of Paris. Two companies of the Seventy-eighth Highlanders formed a guard of honor. The streets in the vicinity were crowded. Governor-General Young and Lieutenant-Governor Doyle went on board, and soon returned, followed by Prince Arthur, Colonel Elhinston, the Princess, Governor and Lieutenant Pickard. The appearance of the Prince elicited hearty cheers. The band then played national anthems. The Prince immediately entered a carriage and was driven to the Government House. He attended special service in the garrison chapel at half past five o'clock. The formal landing will take place at Her Majesty's dock yard to-morrow, when the Prince will be received by Governor-General Young, Admiral Mundy, Vice Admiral Wellsly, the Supreme Court and members of the local Provincial Governments. An address will be presented by Mayor Tobin, bells will be rung and an illumination will take place in the evening.

HALIFAX, August 23.—The reception of Prince Arthur took place at noon today. An immense crowd was in the dock yard. On landing from the Admiral's barge, the Prince was received amid salvos of artillery. Many distinguished persons were present, including Gov. Gen. Young, Lieut. Gov. Doyle, Admiral Mundy and Wellesly, the corporation authorities, French naval officers, &c. The Prince was in citizen's attire. A welcoming address, highly complimentary, was read by the Recorder. The Prince then read the following reply from manuscript: "Mr. Mayor, and corporation of this city—I return most sincerely my thanks for the loyal address which you have just presented me, and avail myself of the opportunity to request you to convey to the citizens whom you represent my grateful thanks for the kind and hearty welcome they have this day accorded me. I can assure you that I looked with anticipations of great pleasure to my visit to the British Dominion on this side of the Atlantic, and it is to me a source of great satisfaction to see, on my first landing, how highly cherished still is the memory of my illustrious grandfather, who governed this province so long. Your allusions to the Queen and the kind wishes for my welfare will be most gratifying to Her Majesty, and I feel sure she will hear with pleasure how cordially and hearty has been her son's reception among you." [Cheers.]

The procession of militia, firemen and societies moved through the thronged streets to the Government House, where the Prince reviewed it and then retired. The city is illuminated to-night, and everybody is out of doors.

Habeas Corpus in Mississippi.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

JACKSON, Miss., August 23.—General Ames has issued the following order to commanders of military posts in Mississippi:

The Commanding General directs that you do not obey in future any writ of habeas corpus issued by the United States District Court and Circuit Court, or any made by such Courts for the release of prisoners in your custody. Should such writ or order be served upon you, you will report the fact by telegraph.

Suicide of an Ex-Army Officer.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

EVANSVILLE, Indiana, August 23—Major Louis Mandazi, formerly of the Tenth Tennessee Infantry, and afterwards a staff officer under Gen. Gillem, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the head. The cause of the rash act is supposed to have been the result of despondency. He was formerly in the Austrian army, and took part in the revolution of 1848. He served ten years in the First United States Infantry.

—Col Quesada, brother of Gen. Quesada, arrived in New York on Saturday on a diplomatic mission and as bearer of important dispatches from the Cuban authorities.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 23, 1869.

Captain Shaw, of the London fire brigade, has left here for a tour of the large Southern and Western cities and will probably, on his return home, recommend the adoption of many of the best features of the American system.

Railroad freights to the West are to day advanced to the following figures: Chicago 38, Cincinnati 35, Louisville 50, St. Louis 56 cents per cwt. A lightning express has been ordered on the Erie Railroad, which will take passengers to Chicago in thirty hours, and fares are expected to be reduced. In fact it is certain the advance in freights will be maintained.

It is reported that the contracts for the consolidation of the Central and Hudson roads are ready for ratification and about to be signed.

Several laborers were precipitated to the ground by the fall of a scaffold on the new gas tank in East Twenty-first street, to-day, and all severely injured.

A man named Mott Cedell, an alleged commission merchant, was arrested charged with swindling Beetholen & Thompson, of St. Louis, out of twenty-five barrels of whisky, valued at $1,214, by false pretenses.

An illegal whisky distillery in the Fifth ward of Brooklyn was seized today.

The proprietors of the Communipaw abbattoir disregard the injunction as usual. The butchers are excited and threaten vengeance against the citizens, who, on the contrary, threaten to burn down the abbattoir unless the nuisance is abated.

CUBAN REVOLUTION.

Details of a Recent Engagement of Gen. Jordan's Forces.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 23.—Advices from Cuba to the 13th, received by Cuban sympathizers here, give an account of the fight between a portion of General Jordan's command, and the troops of Valmaseda near Puerto Padre. The Cubans, numbering less than six hundred, were encamped near Puerto Padre, where they were attacked by a force of Spanish regulars and volunteers over one thousand strong. In the first attack the Cubans were compelled to fall back. They, however, rallied, and securing a more defensible position they repulsed the Spaniards in their attack. The loss of the Cubans in the contest was one hundred and fifty in killed, wounded and missing. That of the Spaniards is represented as more than double that number. Col. Figuerro commanded the Cubans. The fight is reported to have been one of the most desperate character, the Cubans fighting with an earnestness that was irresistible.

HAVANA, August 23.—Col. Nicolan, with two hundred men and two pieces of artillery, attacked and routed four hundred insurgents near Jicotea in the Central Department. The latter left twenty killed on the field.

PHILADELPHIA.

The Drought and Water Famine.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, August 23.—Not a drop of rain has fallen here since August 4th, the night of the great whisky fire, nor have any accounts of rain been received from the interior, except of a short thunder storm on Saturday last of about thirty minutes, up the Schuylkill. All reports agree as to the great damage to corn from drought in this State.

A special meeting of the City Councils was held to-day to consider the water famine. Twenty-five thousand dollars was appropriated for the families of destitute canal boatmen upon the Schuylkill river. Power has been given to the Chief Engineer to take any measures he may deem proper to raise water into the basins at Fairmount. The experiment was tried this afternoon of raising water by means of steam fire engines. The hill at Fairmount is ninety-six feet high and it is doubtful whether the hose will stand the pressure. The result has not yet been announced.

Prize Fight in Indiana.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

VINCENNES, IND., August 23.—A prize fight is to come off between Noah Skinner and Com. Murray on the 28th inst., within fifty miles of Vicnennes, for one hundred dollars a side. It is creating quite a stir among the "fancy" in this vicinity. Jem Coyne, Tom Allen's trainer and backer, is here, filling the same position for Skinner. The steamer Advance has been chartered for the occasion, and a large arrival of roughs is expected in time to accompany the expedition. A lively fight is anticipated, as both are good men and are said to have been in the ring before.

The Drought in Kentucky.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, August 23.—The intensity of the heat continues without abatement. The rains that have fallen have been but partial in the State and not sufficient to mitigate the drought. Accounts from tobacco regions state that but one-half the crop produced last year will be raised this year. Corn is almost shriveled.

Damage from Kerosene.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BINGHAMTON, Aug. 23.—A wooden building, on Court street, occupied by Negus Brothers, grocers, was burned on Saturday night. Loss $9,000, partially insured.

NEWS BY CABLE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 23.—The Morning Telegraph to-day has an editorial on the forthcoming international boat race, wherein it says: A point in favor of the Americans is that they are in such a state of high training of the best kind; that they have not submitted to a sharp regime for a few months with a view to a particular event, but have been in perfect training for the last three years. What hardness of muscle, soundness of heart and honesty of lung must be the result! It is almost impossible to overrate the effects which such a state of facts has upon the event of the race. Four young athletes, kept for three years under conditions to develope every available power, is something more excellent than the results of a few months' training. What may not be expected from a crew called upon for a quarter of an hour's strain, when they have been at work for years? Taking our information as correct, we should consider the superior hardness of the Americans more than a set off against the style of the English, and conclude that the contest will be mainly a battle of coxswains. Whatever the events may be, we trust the increase of kindly feeling and good fellowship between the two nations may be one of the results.

The Bishop of Winchester has resigned.

LONDON, August 23—Evening.—In the regatta for the championship of the Thames, to-day, Renforth won, beating Kelly and Sadler. The course was from Putney to Mortlake.

Brown has made a match with Renforth for the championship of the Thames and one hundred pounds, the course to be from Tyne High Level Bridge to Leamington Point, four and three-fourth miles. The match will come off between September 23d and October 1st.

The Harvard and Oxford crews were out on the Thames to-day. The banks of the river were crowded with spectators on account of the regatta, and the American and English crews were heartily cheered. The Oxonians to day rowed for the first time in the new boat built by Elliott. She measures forty-five feet in length and twenty-one and a half inches across at the widest part. Mr. Simmons, of the Harvard four, has entirely recovered from his recent indisposition.

LONDON, August 23.—The Telegraph to-day in its sporting article alludes again to the International University race. It says many of the best judges of boating offer two to one on the Oxfords. It predicts that the Oxfords will win, but believes that the Harvard men will make a better fight than was anticipated by the supporters of the Oxfords.

The Harvard men desire that a contradiction be made of the rumors that they have adopted the English style of rowing. They maintain that the match is to be a contest of styles as well as of men. They express themselves well pleased with all the arrangements that have been made for them, and are satisfied with the result of their practice on the Thames. The Harvards have not yet decided what boat they will take for the race. Their coxswain will be lighter in weight than the Oxfords. The Americans propose to invite the Prince of Wales and Mr. Motley, American Minister, to accompany the crews on the day of the race, and for that purpose the use of the Harvard launch will be tendered them.

DROGHEDA, August 23.—An open air meeting was held here to-day, in favor of granting amnesty to Fenians. Bands played popular Fenian airs and enthusiastic speeches were made. The resolutions adopted declare that the further detention of Fenian prisoners is unwise, impolitic and unjust.

FRANCE.

PARIS, August 23.—The Empress departs on an eastern tour to-day.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The La France says: However painful it may be for Spain to accept the suggested solution of the Cuba difficulty, there is no other plan possible. It is the only way for Spain to save fragments of the wreck. The value and duration of Cuban independence, under the protection of America, is another question. The desire to absorb which characterizes the Americans qualifies them very badly to perform the part of a platonic protectorate. It is very probable that behind the compromise they are trying to bring out lies a second edition of the history of Texas.

SPAIN.

PARIS, August 23.—The following news has been received from Spain: The united Carlist bands under Galinds, Sales, Riele and Roeker, have been defeated in the provinces of Castillon, De La Plana and Vallencia. The Carlist chieftain, Sarariegos, has reappeared in Spain with fifty armed followers.

MADRID, August 23.—Marshal Serrano, Regent, has returned to Madrid from La Granga. Eleven Carlists, among them Galindo and Rocher, were killed in a recent fight at Castillon De La Plana. Many prisoners were taken by the troops. The barracks at Tog Rono were burned to the ground last night; the fire is supposed to be the work of incendiaries.

The press of this city concur in urging the Government to extend clemency to Carlist prisoners.

ROME.

ROME, August 23.—The Civitta denies that there will be any postponement of the meeting of the Ecumenical Council and assert that the number of Bishops who have declined to attend is less than three hundred.

MARINE NEWS.

LONDON, August 22.—The steamers Hermann, Nevada, City of Limerick and Austrian have arrived out.

CRONSTADT, Aug. 23.—A violent storm visited this harbor to-day. During the tempest a monitor broke loose from her anchorage and ran into a screw frigate, sinking her almost instantly. Sixteen of the frigate's crew were drowned.

LONDON, August 23.—Late advises from Hong Kong report that the ship Argonaut, Captain Baker, which sailed from Baltimore February 17th, for Hong Kong, has arrived at that port with her masts and sails severely damaged. The ship Suwanda, which sailed from Hong Hong for Shanghae, has put back to Hong Kong leaking. The Suwanda has discharged her cargo, two thirds of which is damaged, and will go into dock for repairs.

GETTYSBURG.

The Reunion of Officers on the Battle Field.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GETTYSBURG, August 23.—Gen. Geary and others who took part in the war will arrive to-morrow. Only one ex-Confederate officer, Col. Walter Harrison, has yet arrived. Gen. Lee, in acknowledging the receipt of an invitation to be present, says his engagements will not permit his attendance, and adds that it is wisest not to keep open the sores of the war, but to follow the example of those nations who endeavored to obliterate marks of civil strife and commit to oblivion the feelings it engendered. The exploration of the battle field will commence to-morrow. The press of New York, Philadelphia, Washington and other cities is represented. A number of Union officers have arrived, among them Gens. Robinson, Meredith, Graham, McCandless and several other gentlemen. None of the officers of the Second or Sixth Corps have yet arrived. A meeting of the officers was held to-night, at which suggestions were made as to the plan of operations. The Chair stated that a survey of the battle field was being made under direction of Gen. Warren. It embraces thirty square miles. There was an interchange of views as to how proceedings should be conducted, and finally the programme proposed by Col. Bachelder, of New York, was adopted as follows: To-morrow, the position of the first day's battle will be completed; on Wednesday, Culp's Hill, Cemetery Hill and vicinity; on Thursday, positions on the left, including Apple Orchard, Peach Orchard, Wheat Field, Round Top and intermediate points; Friday, general lines of third day's battle; on Saturday, cavalry operations. The meeting adjourned after agreeing to meet on Seminary Hill to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

Suicide of a Newly Married Couple.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, August 23.—A horrible and unaccountable double suicide was enacted yesterday at Jeffersonville, Ind., the victims being a newly married couple. George Barnacle, a German, after drinking whiskey to excess with his wife, went out and procured a half gallon of beer, which he brought home. His wife drank some of this beer, and within ten minutes was a corpse. Before Barnacle could be prevented, he drank a large quantity of the same beer and died about noon, half an hour after his wife expired. Upon making an analysis of the beer it was found to contain arsenic and morphine and it is supposed Barnacle put it in the beer, as he and his wife were heard to talk of poisoning each other during their drunken orgies. Barnacle had been in low spirits since his marriage by reason of a false statement that his wife's former husband was still living.

Destructive Fire at Seymour, Indiana—Citizens Overcome by Excessive Heat.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SEYMOUR, IND., August 23.—The extensive carpenter shop belonging to Messrs. Travers, Carter & Co. and the Christian Church, took fire to-day about noon and burned to the ground. The church had just been completed. The loss to Messrs Carter & Co. is about twenty thousand dollars, there being no insurance. They had two contracts, one the Seminary now in process of erection, and a new church. The work on both will now be suspended in consequence of the fire. At least twenty men were overcome by excessive heat and exertion in saving the adjoining property. Lines of men were formed in every direction from the house tops to the cisterns and wells and water was conveyed by this means to save the adjoining buildings. Several men fell from the housetops and others were carried away completely overcome by the heat and were restored to consciousness by the direction of the medical faculty, who were all on the ground and labored assiduously for the sufferers. Apprehension was felt at first that the boiler would explode, as the engine was in motion and the steam hissing with a fearful noise, but a locomotive engineer present tested the amount of water and steam in the boiler and immediately assured every one that there was no danger in that quarter, and all then went to work to prevent the fire from spreading.

The thermometer stood at 104 in the shade at 2 P. M.

The Trot at Saratoga.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SARATOGA, August 23.—In the trot today, Mountain Boy beat Lady Thorne three straight heats in 2:27, 2:24¼, and 2:25¼. Commodore Vanderbilt and wife were on the ground, attracting much attention.

Weather and Crop Reports.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 23.—Weather and crop reports received here from leading localities in the south-west and east generally report hot, dry weather which in some sections has been greatly prolonged. All accounts represent the corn and tobacco crops as greatly injured and short from one-quarter to one-half of the past year's yield. In the most of Virginia but little rain has fallen for eighty days. In Louisiana the crop prospects are reported to be good. Rust and premature opening of the balls of cotton on account of the drought are reported in some sections, but on the whole the cotton crop reports are favorable. In those sections where the drouth is injuring the cotton it is generally stated that if rain falls soon, much of the anticipated damage may yet be averted.

Lard steady at 20c. High-wines scarce and dull, with sales 30 bbls at $1,22.

ALBANY, August 23.—The supply of cattle is four hundred short of last week, and the attendance of buyers is fair. The market opened spiritless, and to effect sales concessions were made; the better grades were superior to the offerings last week, but there were more scallawags, so the average was no better; the top price realized was for 9c good butchering steers from Illinois, which brought 7c, and medium weight 6½c, but bulk sales were made at 7½@8¼c. Sheep and Lambs; the demand was limited, and Sheep have fallen off fully ½c; Lambs sell slowly at last week's prices. Hogs: receipts and demand light and the tendency of the market is downward; Michigan 9@9½c, and Illinois 9¾@10¼c.

OSWEGO, Aug. 23.—Flour unchanged; sales 1,400 barrels at $7,50@7,75 for spring No. 1; $7,75@8 for amber winter; $8,25 for white; $8,75@9 for double extra. Wheat quiet; sales No. 2 Milwaukee club at $1,48. Corn held at $1,07@1,10, according to quality. Corn meal $2,30 per cwt. Mill feed steady; shorts 22c; ship stuffs 75c; middlings 28@30c to New York. Freights—wheat 9½c, corn 8½c to New York. Lumber $3,50 to Hudson. Railroad freights—Flour to Boston 68c; to New York 58c; to Albany 50c. Lake imports 2,870 bu wheat, 29,000 bu corn, 2,483,000 feet lumber. Canal exports—55,700 bu wheat, 24,600 bu corn, 1,970,000 feet lumber.

CHICAGO, August 23.—At open Board in the afternoon the markets generally were quiet, with sales No. 2 Wheat at $1.36 seller for August, and $1,25½@1,26 seller for September. Corn dull at 88c seller for August, and 85½c seller for September. Oats firmer at 45½@46c seller for August, and 42c seller for September. Barley at $1,15@1.17 buyers for first half of next month. In the evening nothing was done. The grain market was steady at the closing rates of the afternoon Board. Lake freights and Provisions quiet.

NEW ORLEANS, August 23.—Cotton dull, with sales of 16 bales; quotations nominal; receipts, 65 bales; exports Saturday: coastwise, 2,138 bales; stock this evening, 18 bales. Flour firm and unchanged. White Corn $1. Oats; new 65@66, and old 63. Bran $1. Pork unchanged. Whisky firmer; western rectified $1,25@1,30. Gold 132⅛. Exchange Sterling 145¼. New York Sight ⅝ premium.

AT THE DOOR.

The waters roll, quick bubbling by the shoal,
Or leap the rock outforming in a bow,
The wind blows free in gusples round the tree,
Along the groves of oak in double row,
Where lovers seek the maiden's evening floor,
With stip-step light, and tip-tap slight,
Against the door.

With iron bound the wheel rims roll around,
And crunch the cracking flint below their load,
The gravel trod by horses iron-shod,
All crackles shrill along the heaven road,
Where lovers come to seek, in our old place,
With stip-step light, and tip tap slight,
The maiden's face.

And oh! how sweet's the time the lover's feet
May come before the door to seek a bride,
As he may stand and knock with shaking hand,
And lean to hear the sweetest voices inside;
While there a heart will leap to hear once more
The stip-step light, and tip-tap slight,
Against the door.

How sweet's the time when we are in our prime,
With children, now our care and aye our joy,
And child by child may scamper, skioping wild,
Back home from school or play games, girl or boy,
And there upon the door stone leap once more
With stip-step light, and tip-tap slight,
Against the door,

Be my abode beside some uphill road,
Where people pass along, if not abide,
And not a place where day may bring no face
With kindly smiles, as lonesome hours may glide;
But let me hear some friend, well-known before,
With stip-step light, and tip-tap slight,
Against the door.

PENNSYLVANIA.

"J. N." is going to Gettysburg.

EBENSBURG talks of raising fish.

A NEW rolling mill is being built in Danville.

THE Conneaut Lake regatta is to take place on the 31st inst.

WASHINGTON talks of putting up a very large hotel on the large-city plan.

THE Uniontown woolen mill is to be in full operation by the first of September.

ALMAGOOZLEUM CITY is the name of a new town on Cherry Tree Run in the oil regions.

DR. BENJAMIN, of Dushore, Pa., recently took an overdose of morphine, which proved fatal.

ABOUT twenty-five yards of carpet was stolen from the chancel of the Presbyterian church at McVeytown last week.

LAST WEEK, the dwelling house of Mr. James McGlaughlin, near Kintersburg, Indiana county, was totally destroyed by fire.

SOME villains broke into the house of Mr. Craft, a Methodist minister in Jamestown, during his absence, and broke all the furniture and tore the carpets and clothing to strips.

MIFFLINTOWN had a new cemetery dedicated the other day. Besides prayers and addresses by several ministers, there was music by the combined choirs of the Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

READING proposes to celebrate the Humboldt Centennial by an evening's entertainment, consisting of a concert, tableaux, addresses in German and English, and the coronation of a bust of Humboldt.

THE Easton people have been complaining for some time that their water company provided them with "foul and stinking water." It is now stated that four or five dead infants have been found in the reservoir.

THE Uniontown Genious of Liberty has come out as an illustrated paper. The wood engravings which it contains, may be taken as fair illustrations of the character and taste of the proprietors and subscribers of that sheet.

SAMUEL CORBEN, a miner employed at the Bethel Bank, hung himself in an outhouse near his house, on the 10th inst. Intemperance is assigned as the cause, as he had the delirium tremens at the time of his death. He leaves a wife and eight children.

THE Williamsport Bulletin says: A Philadelphian, having no fear of trout laws before his eyes, amused himself on Monday by hooking five of the "speckled beauties," near Trout Run. He was promptly arrested, and the little sport cost him $36, which he reluctantly forked over. This may act as a caution to violators of the law.

BROOKVILLE is having a very elegant court house finished. The court room itself is neatly frescoed on the walls and ceiling, and is further ornamented by a statue of Justice just behind the Judges seat. This is supposed to typify the constant actual presence of the blind goddess in that vicinity, although it has been hinted that it means that the Judges can always manage to get ahead of justice.

MARTIN BILLMEYER, who was serving out a sentence in Williamsport jail for defrauding the Revenue, has committed suicide. The jailor was in the habit of treating him with some leniency, by allowing him the privilege of walking out occasionally. He was suffered to go out on last Tuesday evening, but did not return, and no trace of him was received until this morning, when his body was found among some shrubbery a considerable distance in the rear of the jail, with his throat cut from ear to ear, and the suicidal knife grasped in his hand.

THE Lawrence Journal says: About two weeks since a man named William Small, residing in Bedford, this county, met with a sudden death by falling from a horse rake while in motion. It seems that, owing to the level nature of the ground upon which he was at work, Mr. Small had omitted the precaution of having hold back straps to his harnees. Consequently, as he was descending a little hill, the rake ran into the horses' heels, and caused an immediate stampede. Mr. Small was thrown from his seat, and almost instantly killed, his neck being broken.

THE Sunbury American says: We learn that iron ore has been discovered in Lower Mahanoy township, and that parties are engaged in opening a vein, about three feet in thickness on the farms of Messrs. P. Borrell and David Seller. The ore is pronounced of the best quality, and the parties mining are sanguine of an abundance of it. They have leased several tracts of land for the purpose of opening ore mines, and it is calculated soon to bring it into market. The ore veins run with the limestone, and those who profess to understand the nature of ore mining, believe that inexhaustible beds of it are in that vicinity.

THE Waynsburg Republican says: A man named James Berg, living in Springhill township, this county, was almost killed last Tuesday night. He had gone to bed, when hearing a noise in his smokehouse, he went to see what was the matter. He found the door open and, supposing that there might be some stock in, cried out, "come out," and looked in. He was answered by a blow on the forehead with a hatchet, that almost clove his skull in twain. He fell against a fence, and there received another blow that cut into his brain. He is still living, and is sensible most of the time. We understand a man named Anderson has been arrested, charged with the deed. If convicted, he ought to receive the extreme penalty of the law, as such an unjustifiable, cold-blooded murder is rarely committed. Mr. Berg is an honest, industrious citizen, much respected. We believe he has a family. We forebear further comment as the man Anderson will be brought here for trial.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday afternoon last, James Conners, employed at the Hickory Swamp Breaker, was killed by falling from a window in the slate room to the ground, a distance of fifty feet. It appears he was engaged in a friendly tussle with some other boys, quite near the window, and in some way lost his balance and fell out. His injuries were principally internal, and he died in about an hour after being conveyed to his home. He was aged ten years.

Another.—On Wednesday morning, Jacob Martz was killed by a fall of rock in the mines at the Cameron Colliery. He died while being taken to his boarding house. He was aged about twenty-three, and unmarried.—Shamokin Herald.

A Pickpocket Dodge.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin].

A few words in regard to a favorite method adopted by pickpockets, known as "knucks," to successfully ply their nefarious vocation, may serve to place the public on their guard against the encroachments of these light-fingered gentry. Pickpockets, as a general thing, are tolerably well dressed, and so far as outward appearances are concerned, might readily pass for gentlemen. Those of the fraternity who have made the profession a sort of science, dress with scrupulous neatness, are at times exceedingly polite, pleasant in speech, and affect such unostentatiousness that they seldom fail to make a favorable impression upon society. There are others who do not come up to this standard; they are simply confederates or "pals," their business being to hide the plunder "faked" by their superiors. The favorite resort of the fraternity of pickpockets for the purpose of pursuing their profession was for several years the street cars, generally those which started from railroad depots immediately after the arrival of the trains, or at the places of amusement at the time of closing. These thieves would select crowded cars, and so well arranged were their plans that they never came in contact with each other. At the present time they deviate a little from the old practice. They do not always select crowded cars. They get on the rear platforms of cars very near full, and insist upon standing there, always being ready with some plausible excuse, such as "going to get off directly"—"only going a couple of squares," or "it's too hot there." At such a time their plan of operations is as follows: The car stops for one or more passengers, who have some difficulty in effecting an entrance. The crowd opens the way, and as the passenger passes onward his hat is pushed from behind so as to nearly cover his forehead. This is so adroitly accomplished by the thief as to throw the passenger aforesaid off his guard. He puts his hand up to readjust his tile, and at the same moment the scientific "knuck" relieves him of his pocket-book or other valuables, which he hands to a "pal," who gets off and disappears.

The hat-tipping business is quite a favorite practice, although it is not always attended with success. Persons who meet with such an event, either in getting on railroad cars, or while waiting at ticket offices in depots or at places of amusement, should remember these words of caution. In case any one should feel his hat move from behind, in the manner above stated, whether on a crowded platform or any other place, as already indicated, let that person immediately turn around to the one behind him and say, "I'm on that myself." After that he may feel perfectly secure from further annoyance on that occasion.

A Startling Revelation Promised.

The story of Chancellor Lansing, a man once well known in this State, and still remembered by a few survivors, has never yet been published. The magazine writer truly says that he left a New York hotel, one afternoon forty years ago, to take a boat for Albany, where he resided. The porter who handed him his bag was the last person known to have seen him alive. He never reached the Albany boat, and he was never heard of again. Naturally his disappearance created a profound sensation, for he held a high position, and was "a man full of years and honor." The writer to whom we have referred says: "His place on earth has been made vacant; but there is not, and can never be, any record of how, or when, or where. He may have died that day; he may have lived for years afterward."

In the hypothesis thus put forward, the writer, in common with the general body of the public, is mistaken. We speak under authority when we say that every incident connected with the disappearance of Chancellor Lansing is well known to a gentleman now living. The secret was confided to him by a distinguished citizen of this State, now deceased, whose name always commanded and does still command respect. The survivor was enjoined to publish all the circumstances when certain persons specified were dead. This condition has been fulfilled, and it is probable that a narrative calculated to startle the public will yet be given to the world. There will then no longer be room left for a single doubt in reference to Chancellor Lansing's fate. We do not feel ourselves at liberty to hint at the nature of the revelation to be made, but this we may say, that it will be well authenticated, and that it will form one of the most remarkable pages in the history of the public men of this country.—N. Y. Times.

SALAD.—It is said that heads of salad can be produced in winter in from twenty-four to forty-eight hours, by taking a box filled with rich earth, in which one-third part of slacked lime has been mixed, and watering the earth with lukewarm water; then taking lettuce seed, which has been previously softened by soaking in strong brandy twenty-four hours, and sowing in the usual way. We are assured, but will not vouch for the fact, that a good sized head of lettuce may be obtained in the time mentioned.

A SARATOGA jeweler last week sold a diamond ring for $11,500. The weight of the magnificent jewel is 10½ carats, and is said to be the largest diamond now in the United States. Fisk, jr., of Erie railroad fame, owns the next largest. The purchaser is a gentlaman residing in New York.

The Eclipse.

General Hawley, who saw the eclipse at Des Moines, Iowa, on the line of totality, writes:

The effect of the eclipse upon the animal creation has been exagerated. Horses and cattle paid little or no attention. Creatures that are accustomed to go to some particular place at dark did start for their places, and undoubtedly in some dismay. Birds were apparently astounded by being suddenly caught out late, and must have fancied that they had absentmindedly neglected to notice sunset. They flew rapidly. An old rooster took to the fence and folded himself up, but in two minutes and fifty-two seconds he crowed lustily. It was a very short night to him. Saturday morning Dr. Peters requested an old negro living near his observatory to watch carefully his big flock of hens, for at a quarter to five they would go to roost. After the eclipse was over he came, evidently much excited. "How was it?" said the doctor. "Beats the debble," said the negro. "When de darkness come ebry chick'n run for the hole in de barn. De fust ones got in, and de next ones run ober one anudder, and the last ones dey just squat right down in the grass. How long you know dis ting was a comin?" "Oh! I reckon we knew it more than a year," said the doctor. "Beats de debble! Here you away in New York knowed a year ago what my chick'ns was gwine to do dis berry afternoon, an' you never see de chick'ns afore nudder!"

THE Cincinnati correspondent of the Indianapolis Mirror relates the following: "I am strong in faith, as in believing that Covington is the paradise for lovers, when the male party is a negro minstrel. Eight years ago, last February, Frank Leslie (real name George Wicks) went there to espouse the widow of Pen Lear, also a minstrel. She had been a widow nearly four months, and was in debt, from Pen having been sick a long time, during which time she had been compelled to do sewing for the barest necessaries of life. She had received no intimation of Leslie's intentions, in fact had been the recipient of no attention from him till he wrote her a note asking her to meet him after rehearsal on a certain day, to transact some business. She had sewed for him, and glad to get more work, she met him; was somewhat surprised at his proposition to walk over to Covington, but went there, and to the house of a Mr. Smith, a part owner of the hall in which the troupe was then performing. Arrived there, without any prelude whatever, he asked Mrs. Smith if she would allow him the use of her parlor or kitchen, for that matter he did not care, to marry Mrs. Lear in. Mr. S. consented, when he said to Mrs. Lear, "will you marry me! I can do better for you than you can for yourself—it's just breaking my heart to see you working yourself to death, and I loved you anyhow all the time you were poor Pen's wife. So she married him then and there, in her poor widow's garment, and while I knew them he was a most devoted husband.

THE HUMBOLDT celebration by the students of the University of Berlin, and those of the Industrial, Architectural and Mining academies, took place on Tuesday the 27th of July. The Humboldt family, the University professors and teachers, members of the Academy of Sciences, the magistrates and city delegates, the American Minister and other persons of distinction were present. The oration was delivered by a student of philosophy, named Soher Professor Holtzendorf, who followed Professor Virchow, in the course of his remarks said: "Alexander von Humboldt broke, in 1857, the last chains of slavery by his utterance: 'Every black who treads this land is free!' Accordingly I refer you to that state which Humboldt most honored, to North America; and I beg you to join with me in three cheers for the United States, represented here in her ambassador."

Mr. Bancroft answered as follows:

"America takes part in the festival in honor of Humboldt, and with right, for the name of Humboldt stands for freedom, science and benevolence. I am glad to be among you, for it brings to mind the time when I had the fortune to spend some time in German universities. Drink with me, then, to the welfare of the free, creative, immortal youth of Germany!"

THEODORE TILTON is described by Eugene Benson as follows: "Everything about him is crude and rank. The force of his youth never seems to have found a natural outlet; but, kept by premature professions of renunciation of its legitimate objects, has stagnated, and then spread only to feed the rank and prolific growths of the religious and secular life. Mr. Tilton is a modernized Puritan, with enough of Lovelace in him to make him love flowers and women, and now and then, to exaggerate his floral and feminine fancies. His is the hard pushing and flare up style of writing; but it is always firmly expressive of the progressive and living ideas which lose to-day and win to-morrow. He has a certain moral sagacity which determines his relation to party questions. But Mr. Tilton has not a critical mind; he has not a philosophical mind; he has a fanatical and stimulative mind."

THE locust plague, it is reported, prevails extensively this year in Italy, and entire districts have been overrun, and almost every green thing, except vines and olives, devoured. The landed proprietors of the afflicted region have now resolved on burning all the stubble in order to prevent another invasion. The progress of these destructive animals is described as being almost irresistible. They climb lofty walls, descend rocks a thousand feet in depth, and neither fire nor water seems to check them. If myriads are slaughtered, myriads replace them, advancing steadily, like legions of British troops. Opposition is of little use, precaution of great use; and the best precaution, it is asserted, is that of hunting for the eggs during the winter and early spring.

ELEPHANT PLOWS.—Among the usual agricultural implements now manufactured in Great Britain, are large numbers of elephant plows, which are forwarded by way of the Mediterranean, the Isthmus of Suez and the Red Sea and Indian Ocean, to the place of their destination. Every morning, at sunrise, the elephant takes his mahout by the waist belt, places him on his back, and starts into the field. Two assistants guide the two plow handles, and as long as the sun is above the horizon the elephant marches along, throwing up a huge ridge behind him, the furrow having a breadth of four and a half feet and a depth of three.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August, 23 1869.

The general markets are moderately active with a fair volume of business in the aggregate, and trade generally, is better than it was last month. Grain of all kinds, but particularly wheat and oats, is weak, unsettled and drooping, and the impression is gaining strength that prices must go lower. Wheat is commencing to move pretty freely and the crop in nearly all quarters having turned out better than was expected thirty days since, it is now demonstrated beyond a doubt that the yield is a full average, and in this section of cuontry it is reported larger than it has been for many years. Meat is now the highest priced commodity in our market, but indications are that it, too, must depreciate in value, particularly fresh meats, as they are much higher, relatively, than anything else people have to buy.

APPLES—In good supply and dull but unchanged, $1,50@3 per bbl.

BERRIES—Sales of Blackberries at 90 cts. per pail—pails returned.

BUTTER—Is selling at 20 to 24, for fair to strictly prime.

BROOMS—Quoted as follows: No. 5 $6,50; No. 4 $6; No. 3 $5, No. 2, plain, $4,50, and market firm.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged; Western Reserve 13½@14; Ohio Factory 14½@15; Ohio Goshen 15½ and York Goshen 16½.

CEMENT—Johnstown Hydraulic Cement is quoted at $2,25 per bol.

CARBON OIL—Still quoted at 27@28 for round lots, and 29@30 in a small way.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 23, 1869.

The oil market was unusually active to-day, the sales being much larger than usual, while compared with Saturday prices have undergone no essential change. The refined market, particularly for August delivery, was thought to be a shade stronger this evening, while futures remain unchanged. Crude is weak and offering freely at the decline of last week, but the great proportion of the sales, we understand, are settlements or purchases by "shorts" to cover maturing contracts. During the week ending August 21st, 1868, crude sold at 13 on spot; 13 for lines from September to December; 13½ for September alone. Refined, same time, sold at 31½@31¾ for August; 32½ for November, and there was a line sold of 2,500 each, August to December at 33¼. Thus it will be seen that refined was then, on an average, higher than it is now, while crude was a cent to a cent and a half lower. The New York Shipping List. considered excellent authority, reports the exports from the United States from January 1st to August 14, 1869, at 59,769,052 gallons against 59,982,201 gallons same time last year.

CRUDE.

The reported sales of Crude were unusually large to-day aggregating 9,700 bbls, but notwithstanding the market was more active, prices remain about the same as Saturday. Sales 1,000 each September to December at 14¾; two lots of 1,000 each for August at 14¾; two lots of 1,000 each seller all year at 14¼; 2,000 September at 14¾. We can also report a sale of 700 bbls (48 gravity)—sold last Friday—at 14½, and to-day 14 was offered for 1,000 more of same kind.

REFINED.

Sales 500 each September to December at 32½; 3,500 in lots for August at 31⅝; 500 do at 31½; and 2,000 at 31¾, and a 500 "call" for September and October, at 30 and a dollar. As already intimated, it was thought that August was a shade firmer this evening.

Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Cattle slightly improved, with only 2,300 on sale to-day, completing 5,564 for the week. The effect of a large number last week is still apparent. The heavy supply of cheap peaches prevents any marked advance in the market. Many Texans are again on sale, reducing the average quality, and very few really prime bullocks were in the yards this morning, though several droves ranked as good. Illinois, Kentucky and Texas lead off in numbers. Nearly all the stock on offer was sold but one or two droves not included in the figures above, which are not offering, the owners hoping to do better at One Hundredth street on Wednesday. The prices varied from 10 to 16c, with an average of 14c. ## RIVER NEWS.

The recent showers, as yet, have had no influence on our rivers, nor is it probable that they will. The metal marks indicate 20 inches, though there are probably 24 or 25 inches at Rowley's chute. The weather continues warm, though the mercury last evening was several degrees below where it was on Saturday, 91 against 97½.

—Capt. John Noss left for Cincinnati yesterday, by rail, for the purpose of buying a boat. He has two in view —The Petrolia has withdrawn from the Parkersburg trade, and will shortly enter the Monongahela River trade.

—The new steamer Barranquilla left for New Orleans almost light, with the hull of a new stern wheel boat in tow, and which is to be completed at New Orleans. Pilots—Capt. Jacob Poe and Andrew Parr.

—The small steamer Young Eagle, used as a ferry at Columbus, Ky., sunk on Friday last in Lucas Bend, in twelve feet water, but she can be raised. She was overloaded with brick and lumber. No lives were lost.

—The Davenport Gazette says: The Northern Line Packet Company have sounded for a new channel on the rapids, and have found it. It is opposite Campbell's Island, and on Sunday had over four feet of water in it.

—The New Albany Commercial says: New Albany is now the head of navigation on the lower Ohio. Boats are now allowed to stop at Portland, even though they were able to work over Portland bar. All freights for shipment south by river from Louisville have to be hauled in wagons or towed in barges to this city before they can be placed on steamboats.

—Says the Louisville Courier: The monkey on the Indiana has been in bad health for some time, and goes for all the pills, powders and potions he can get hold of. His last exploit was to gobble an entire box of compound cathartic pills, which he hooked from the Captain's room. As a motive power compound cathartic pills are a success, and the result may be imagined.

—A Memphis dispatch under date of Friday says: The channel of the river is greatly changed, and pilots are unable to find it. Nine feet at Island 34, above here. A Monitor broke her machinery and drifted on the bar at 34, where she lies hard aground. The Republic, past due from above, has not yet arrived. The Sam Hale has arrived. The steamer Dan Able was purchased to day by Capt. McManus for the Vicksburg and Memphis trade.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette of Saturday: The United States survey boat Tideoute is lying between Madison and Russell streets, Covington, having arrived here on Thursday. Parties who have the contract for improving the channel at at Warsaw wanted to purchase the tugboat Kate Ellis, but finally concluded that she drew too much water. Work at that point will commence immediately, by building a dam.

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 53¾f.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 89½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 132.

IT WOULD BE ABSURD to affirm that any great industrial interest of this country was exclusively or mainly in the hands of men of one political party. But it is a fact that what are embraced in the general designation of "great coal companies" in Pennsylvania, are very largely under the management of Democrats. This is true as well of the corporations properly belonging in the State as of those introduced from without. It happens, farther, that a large majority of the miners throughout the anthracite counties, are Democrats. There is, consequently, no basis for the imputation that the existing embroilment is between Republican capitalists on the one hand, and Democratic toilers on the other.

IT IS CERTAIN that the Free Traders, availing themselves of the opportunity afforded by the popular discontent throughout New Jersey, New York and the New England States, will make a most vigorous push upon the reassembling of Congress for the repeal of the impost duties on coal, iron, steel, copper, salt, and other articles entering into general consumption. The abrogation of the duty on coal is demanded by nearly all the Republican journals of those commonwealths, and its repeal will be resisted by none.

West of Pittsburgh not a half dozen journals of prominence can be named that advocate Protection as a National Policy. A few think a resort to impost duties a ready and efficient way of raising revenue; while the larger part omit no opportunity for giving Protection a blow. This tendency has increased since the discovery in Indiana and Illinois of considerable mines of coal of excellent quality for reducing metals. Transportation for a distance of eight or ten hundred miles from the coast is regarded as equivalent to very high protective duties.

In various sections efforts have been made to create the impression that Pennsylvania alone is interested in the maintenance of discriminating duties, and that she has acted most selfishly under the consideration accorded to her peculiar views and interests. That there is little or no foundation in fact for this imputation we have abundantly shown.

What the manufacturing interests which are thus assailed will do in the way of explanation and defence, remains to be developed. As yet, the chief parties have made no disclosures.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE.

A proposition is mooted, to advance the tax on whisky to $1 per gallon. The project will have more friends when the public becomes satisfied that the present rate, only half that amount, is faithfully collected. Commissioner DELANO is doing his best; integrity and vigilance can do wonders, but it is only the hero of a fable who can cleanse an Augean stable in a day. We have no Hercules in these days, but the qualities for which he was renowned are not wholly mythical. We have specified two of these, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue exhibits his title to them, in the wonders of reform which he has already achieved. In that single department of the public service, the close of the first year of this Administration will exhibit results in themselves quite remarkable enough to make good last year's pledges of Republican advantage to the national interest. Every day brings fresh proofs of the systematic subtlety and success with which the treasury under the late administration was defrauded on every haud. It is but a day or two since frauds were exposed at Cincinnati, wherein prominent citizensare implicated to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars. The alleged complicity of certain revenue officials therein is now under investigation. Whether in frauds revealed, in officials exposed, or in the vast increment of the revenues swelling into the Treasury from every minute channel which the law has established, the results of the reorganization of the public service are simply astonishing. Since so much has been done so well, the Commissioner is the better qualified to detect and remedy such evasions of the law as still remain. The time may come, but it is not yet, when it will do to talk of an advance in the rates of taxation upon those articles, which ought to pay the last mill they can bear.

As for the income-tax, it is likely to be re-enacted and continued for a few years longer, unless the Democratic party shall find their opposition to it crowned with success.

THE REPUDIATION MOVEMENT.

Messrs. Pendleton, in Ohio, and Johnson, in Tennessee, lead off the latest Democratic movement for the repudiation of public debts. The first propounds his policy under the flimsy cover of a proposition to repudiate a portion of our obligations to the holders of the national securities. If that be rejected, he commits the Democracy to the rejection of the entire bonded debt. His compatriot in Tennessee, an equally good Democrat, more frankly and courageously avows himself as squarely in favor of repudiating the whole from the start. These gentlemen mean the same thing in the end, but take different paths to attain it. Since Mr. Packer is heartily with both of them upon other partizan issues, it would be interesting to know his real views upon this question. A man is usually known by the company he keeps. This is especially true of politicians. At present, the candidate of the Pennsylvania Democracy is known as a "bloated bond-holder." But he can readily sell out when the prospect for his million or two of Five-Twenties begins to look squally. He was never known to go back on a party issue, unless when he bolted from Douglass to support Breckenridge and Secession, and even then it is to be presumed that he regarded the Kentucky rebel as the best Democratic representative of the two. So that wasn't much of a bolt after all. Since he can neither write nor talk, Mr. Packer is purely a negative quantity in the shaping of Democratic opinions. All his life long he has accepted the politics of his more capable leaders, with an alacrity which was never backward on any occasion. Of course, he follows the lead of Mr. Pendleton and other statesmen of his party in this repudiation movement. As a shrewd man of business, he may be relied upon to protect his own individual interests seasonably and effectually. It will be safe, therefore, to count upon his prompt and unflinching adherence to the new Democratic doctrine of repudiation.

OUR NORTHERN NEIGHBORS.

Our Canadian neighbors have their choice. An official promulgation of the policy of the English Government was made, a few weeks since, in a speech delivered by the Governor General, at Québec. Separation, either with independence or with an eye to an ultimate fusion with the Republic, or such a recast of their colonial relations as would retain but the shadow of an imperial allegiance, alike without cost and without responsibility to England—these were the alternatives which were clearly submitted to the people of the New Dominion, by the Queen's representative.

And now comes Arthur, an English prince of the blood-royal, to afford to the Canadian lieges a suitable occasion for determining the precise value of their practical attachment to the crown. It was intimated, with a good deal of authoritative distinctness, when, two years since, the Confederation of these British Possessions was adopted as the policy of the home government, that a vice-royal empire on this side of the ocean was to be completed with the inauguration of some royal prince at its head. The Duke of Edinburgh, Alfred, second son of the English Queen, was designated, in the public expectations, for the new dignity, but the scheme, if ever entertained in official quarters, was suffered to lapse. It is quite possible that his younger brother may be the candidate now designated, in the event of his visit awakening the right sort of popular sentiment. Snobbery is cosmopolitan; the Canadians may not have more of that obsequious trait than other people, but it is a chance if events fall to show that they have the ample share for which they have always been credited. They are very certain to go nearly outside of their wits, in the actual presence of a live prince of the blood among a population which talks the most radical Chartism, but yet always gazes with reverential awe upon even a gauger's or a postmaster's button. Hence, the question now will be, now much to discount the swollen volume of adulation which they will hasten to lay down at the feet of a prince. Canada really knows less of a representative government than is enjoyed by any constituency in the English islands, since her people are wholly under the lead of a small oligarchy of politicians. It is to these that we must look for any decisive indications of the future status of the New Dominion.

DRINKING WATER.

The present seems to be a season when the drinkers of the waters are troubled. In Philadelphia, the drought has been almost unprecedented, and the most stringent regulations have thus far been necessary to enable the citizens to receive a sufficient supply of water for only their most urgent necessities. One of the Philadelphia journals has even gone so far as to state that if the supply of water in the Schuylkill were not replenished by last Saturday night, the reservoirs of the water-works would be empty, and the citizens would be obliged to depend on the long disused pumps and wells, or else to carry whatever water they might need up from the Delaware river. A great city can hardly be visited by any more undesirable calamity than this. Water is, next to air, our most absolute necessity, and deprivation of it is altogether unbearable. But whether the predicament in which Philadelphia is placed is much worse than that in which the people of one or two other cities, including our own, now find themselves, may reasonably be doubted.

In Easton, the water has for some time been most disagreeable to several of the senses, yet the people were obliged to use it for all the purposes to which water is put, as they still are, although their dislike of the water has now been increased to disgust by the recent discovery of several dead human bodies in their reservoir, proving that it is used as a capital place for concealing crimes and as a receptacle for their victims. Easton people, no doubt, are very reluctant to use the water which comes from a reservoir which has been proved to be so carelessly guarded, but when it becomes an absolute question of water or no water, the disgust must be overcome.

We recently announced that several men had been discovered bathing in one of the Pittsburgh reservoirs, and it is very probable that they may also have been used as receptacles for refuse and offal, a knowledge of the character of which would add but little to the pleasure of the drinker. These possibilities, in conjunction with the frequent certainty of the presence of rich indications of petroleum, render our Pittsburgh water anything but a choice and agreeable beverage, but we must take what is provided for us, it seems, although it appears possible that something might be done towards future improvement. The action in this matter, which most readily suggests itself, is the roofing over of the reservoirs. They are not so large as to render such a proceeding impossible, nor would the roofs be so expensive as to make our consumers of water prefer the present state of affairs. With tight roofs and vigilant watchmen, we can see no reason why the water should not come out of the basins as pure, at least, as it goes in, and nobody will regard that as being an impracticable or superlative degree of cleanliness.

The Popularity of Humboldt.

In the Volksblatt of Monday we find the following anecdote, showing how Alexander Von Humboldt was regarded by the people of Berlin: A conservative journal in Berlin having, in speaking of the coming Humboldt centennial, remarked that among the great masses of the people he was almost wholly unknown, the Post related the following incident of which the writer was a witness: It was towards evening of the 18th of March, 1848. The streets of Berlin were in an uproar, and excited groups rushed from house to house searching for and demanding arms. One of these uproarious mobs came in front of the house No. 67 Oranienburger Strasze, crying for arms; a gigantic laborer seemed to be most prominent in the party and forced open the closed doors. Arriving in the first story, the excited throng was met by a white headed old man, who asked what they wanted. "Give us arms?" was the answer. "Arms, I? my good people where shall I get them?" "Who are you?" demanded the giant?" "I am a scholar, and am called Alexander Humboldt." With one accord the mob moved back, and the giant laborer dropped his head and said, "excuse us Your Excellency, that we have disturbed you." Then turning around he commanded. "Four men remain and guard the house of our great fellow-citizen, Humboldt. Forwards!"

THE Washington correspondent of the New York Herald telegraphs:

It is said that just after the result of the Virginia election became known, Chief Justice Chase wrote a confidential letter to a prominent politician in Tennessee, an old friend of his, wherein he expressed much gratification at the defeat of the bitter enders in Virginia, and rejoiced over the success of the Conservatives. The Chief Justice expressed the hope that results similar to that in Virginia would be produced in Tennessee, Mississippi and Texas, and strongly hinted that in his opinion the Republican party had served its day, and the time was at hand when a new Conservative party should be formed which would embrace the moderate men of all existing parties. This letter was kept very quiet for some time, but after the Tennessee election the gentleman to whom it was addressed seemed to consider the seal of secrecy removed, and showed it around quite freely. He refused, however, to give it to the press.

"Not a Drop to Drink."

Water in our reservoirs, says the Philadelphia Telegraph of Thursday afternoon, continues to "grow small and beautifully less," as will be seen by the following statemant of the amount in each basin Thursday morning:

| Reservoirs. | Depth. |
|---|---|
| Kensington - - - - - | 6 feet 5 inches. |
| Fairmont - - - - - | 4 " 1 " |
| Corinthian Avenue - - | 15 " " |
| Spring Garden - - - | 6 " 4 " |

The level of the water was 1 foot 6 inches below the dam at Fairmont at the time the foregoing measurements were made this morning.

Unless we have rain, continues the Telegraph, by no possibility can the supply at Fairmont be kept up till Saturday evening.

Every factory, refinery and other establishment making large use of water has been notified by the authorities to desist, and numbers of them have either entirely ceased operations, or else make only half or quarter time.

The pecuniary loss by the suspension, both to employers and employed, is enormous. It reaches many thousands of dollars each day.

Housekeepers will have to be careful of their kitchen boilers, else, in case any diminution in the supply actually happens, they will be in imminent danger of explosion.

Many of the factories in the city, and other establishments that use large quantities of water daily, have already commenced the excavation of wells to furnish them in case of necessity, and most of the old wells covered up for years have had pumps reinserted into them for the emergency.

The necessity for a sparing use of the water on the part of each and every one is manifest.

New Process for the Manufacture of Steel.

An experiment, says the Paris Presse, of a most interesting character, and having the highest interest for the iron industry, has taken place at the Marquise Steck Works; in presence of two eminent persons of the Ecole Centrale. The object of this experiment was to make steel by one operation, a problem which has engaged all metallurgists, and which, if solved, would cause an industrial revolution. M. Aristide Berard, an engineer whose name is familiar to all who have occupied themselves with this question, proposed to change second class metal in course of refining into steel of at least ordinary quality, by means of a process alternately oxidizing and reductive. His efforts have been crowned with success. The product, obtained by his process, in presence of two competent judges, proved to be steel of good quality, suitable for all purposes, and made with the facility necessary to its application to practical industry. The operation was effected in a reverbatory furnace, lasted about an hour and a half, and was accomplished with as much facility as puddling. In this process, instead of acting on 480 pounds of metal to obtain iron of number one quality, from 6,600 to 11,000 pounds of metal is made by only one operation into steel ingots ready for the workshop, and with an unexpected economy. We will be much deceived if this invention has not in it the germ of a complete revolution in metallurgy.

Traveling in New York One Hundred Years Ago.

The advertisement, of which we here give a literal copy, is deserving of preservation, on account of the quaintness of the inn signs, the peculiarity of the spelling and diction, the "shifting" of the passengers which it announces, and the general idea it gives us of the way in which traveling was performed in America at the time it was issued:

PHILADELPHIA STAGE-WAGGON, and New-York STAGE BOAT performs their Stages twice a WEEK.

JOHN BUTLER, with his waggon, sets out on Mondays from his House, at the Sign of the Death of the FOX, in Strawberry alley, and drives the same day to Trenton Ferry, when Francis Holman meets him, and proceeds on Tuesday to Brunswick, and the passengers and goods being shifted into the waggon of Isaac Fitzrandolph, he takes them to the New Blazing of Jacob Fitzrandolph,'s the same day, where Rubin Fitzrandolph, with a boat well suited, will receive them, and take them to New York that night. John Butler returning to Philadelphia on Tuesday with the passengers and goods delivered to him by Francis Holman, will again set out for Trenton Ferry on Thursday, and Francis Holman, &c., will carry his passengers and goods, with the same expedition as above to New York. March 8, 1759.

Warned in a Dream.

About the middle of July a serious accident occurred in Bulmer village to a picnic party going to Castle Howard, who made the journey in an omnibus. It seems that the wife of one of the men hesitated to join them, and tried to persuade her husband not to go, because she had dreamt a week before that they were in an omnibus and were upset on going through a village and greatly injured, fright awakening her. The man and his wife, however, did go, but on reaching Bulmer the woman became greatly excited. Not only, she remarked, was the omnibus that which she had seen in her dream, but the village was that in which the accident she dreamt of happened. The words were scarcely uttered when the omnibus was upset, and those on the outside were thown to the ground with great violence. One man was rendered insensible by the omnibus falling upon him, and several sustained rather serious injuries. The woman to whom the accident was revealed was badly hurt, but her husband sustained a dislocation of the ankle. Every incident of the accident seems to have been pictured in the premonitory dream.

OFFENBACH wears a "stunning" costume. A correspondent at Baden-Baden writes that in a certain place at a certain hour in the day, "you will be struck with the approach of a pair of yellow pants, surmounted by a vest of sympathetic color, over which is worn a short coat of bright blue, the whole accompanied by pearl-colored gloves, a large green hat, a la Fra Diavolo, delicately ornamented with a peacock's plume, and roofed in by a large, long-handled, blood-red umbrella. Among all these wonderful things a man moves, and that man is Offenbach."

IT IS said that the juice of one lemon a day, taken in water, will cure the most obstinate case of neuralgia. No sugar should be taken, as it has a tendency to counteract the effects of the lemon juice.

Killing Time at Long Branch.

The correspondent of the Buffalo Courier tells how it is done:

Japonica rises in the morning and dresses; she eats breakfast, undresses and dresses; she takes lunch and undresses; she tries to sleep, but can't, because of the unearthly noises and dresses. She goes to the shore and undresses, and redresses; she bathes, undresses and dresses; she goes to her apartment, undresses and dresses; she eats her dinner, undresses and dresses; she dances once, retires and undresses, and goes down upon her pretty innocent knees, and tries to thank heaven for her blessings, but in the first place she can't tell exactly what they are at present, except that she won't have to dress in ten hours, and then she is too weary to pray for her enemies, who swarm the house, and she goes to sleep, the little heathen! and I sit up to tell you all about it, and wonder at her patient endurance of such things. I don't dress but three times in a day, and if I had to do it one time more, I should manage to give myself to the under tow and let it carry me any where out of the world of clothes.

Remarkable Accident at Malta.

On the occasion of a festival at Malta on the evening of the 24th of July, some officers at the garrison, thinking to amuse the crowds who were collected to witness the illuminations, procured a number of what they believed to be light balls, with parachute and rocket boquets. Upon setting one or more of them on fire, by a match train, however, a loud explosion took place, and showers of grapeshot were discharged, to the imminent peril of the assembled spectators, who took to their heels. Fortunately, no one was seriously injured. The officers, at the risk of their lives, took the rest of the shells and threw them into the sea, where some of them exploded with a tremendous noise and the concussion shook the ground like an earthquake. The missiles were two feet in height, and appear to have been intended for a suspension over a bastion to throw light on the enemy's movements, and it is said that they had been so long in store that there was no record of their introduction, and they were considered worthless.

THE DEEPEST PIT IN ENGLAND,—At the Rose Bridge Colleries, Ince near Wigan, Mr. Bingham, manager to John Grant Morris, Esq., has just proved the seam of coal known as the Arley, at the enormous depth of 810 yards. At this pit, on March 3, 1862, the celebrated Wigan cannel was (in this belt) first found at a distance of 600 yards from the surface; lately the yard mine was found at 678, and now the valuable Arley is struck. It is stated that this pit is now the deepest perpendicular shaft in the world, and that it works the deepest mine yet proved in Britain. When the "dib hole" at the bottom is sunk, the total depth will only be three score yards short of half a mile.

SENATOR WILSON has accepted an invitation to address the workingmen's Association of Springfield, Mass., before the meeting of Congress, although he cannot fix the time now. He says: "I am writing a history of the great struggle with slavery—the mortal enemy of laboring men—and if I go to one place I shall be induced to go to another, and I am anxious to do all I can during the next three months."

THE burning of Senator Pomeroy, in effigy, attracted about all Jacksonville, Kansas. The stuffed figure was wreathed with bean-vines and suspended from a high post. Speeches were made denouncing the Senator for betraying Kansas interests, and then the effigy was fired. A pound of powder in its stomach exploded, and the whole was quite a pyrotechnical success.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Profitable Job.

Yesterday morning, before honest people were stirring, some thief or thieves entered the house of Mr. Robert Sufferance, Poplar alley, old Eighth ward, and carried off eighty-three dollars. The money was in a trunk in a room on the ground floor, occupied as a bed-room. The window had been raised during the night, and through this the operator had gained admittance. The trunk was standing at the head of the bed in which Mr. Sufferance was sleeping, but so noiselessly was the affair conducted that he knew nothing of it until the morning, when he arose and found the key in the trunk lock. Two small boys named Little were arrested by Alderman Butler on supicion, but he discharged hem, having no proof against them.

Insulted a Lady.

Yesterday afternoon a ruffian giving his name as John McShane came out of a saloon on Wylie street, and meeting a lady grossly insulted her. The lady endeavored to get away from him, when he repeated the insult. She managed to get past him, and meeting an officer on the street informed him of the circumstances. The officer promptly arrested the blackguard and conducted him to the lock-up. On arriving there the fellow became boisterous and wanted to fight, pulled off his coat and swore he could whip the whole police force, but he did'nt do it. It required three or four men to get him in a cell, and it should require about fifty dollars' fine or sixty days at the Work House to get him out again.

Railroad Accident.

About six o'clock last evening an accident of a painful character occurred on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, near the depot on Pike street. It appears that a repair hand, an employe on the road whose name we could not learn, got aboard a coal train some distance up the road to ride into the city. When the train arrived at the depot he got off at the rear end of the hind car, and just at that moment the train started to back on a siding, when he was knocked down and the wheels of the car passed over his right leg, severing it at the knee joint. The injured man was removed to Mercy Hospital. He is a resident of Manchester.

A Painful Operation.

Officer William J. Logan, Constable of the Seventh ward, had a painful surgical operation performed on Friday last, from which he is now confined to his bed and suffering severely. Mr. Logan was wounded in the leg during the late rebellion, in consequence of which the main artery was so injured as to stop the circulation of blood in the lower part of the leg. The leg recently began to swell terribly above the knee, and it became necessary to open the leg and tie the artery. He is very much exhausted from the operation, and will not be able to be out for perhaps several weeks.

Larceny of Wearing Apparel.

A few days ago a valuable dress was stolen from the residence of Mr. W. S. Marshall, of West Deer township. A servant girl, who had been employed but a few days, was suspected of the theft, and subsequently facts developed implicating her so strongly that Mr. Marshall made information to that effect before Justice Krane. The girl giving her name as Louisa Smith was arrested yesterday and committed to jail, after a hearing for trial. She is said to have stolen a sum of money from another resident of the township, but as it was given back, he refused to prosecute. She is the same female who, some time ago appeared at the Allegheny Mayor's office and related a strange story of just arriving from Germany in search of her sister, and having been robbed of her carpet sack, and a large sum of money by a man who professed to know where her sister lived, and started to show her the way. Her story was discredited there and it is probable was founded only on her imagination.

Disorderly.

James McAnally was slightly inebriated yesterday evening, and, as many persons do under such circumstances, felt both rich and powerful. He was conducting himself in a disorderly manner, when a police officer came to him and requested him to behave himself and go home. This kind advice James took as an insult and abused the officer, threatening, to whip him and swearing that there was not a man on the police force could arrest him. The officer thought different and took James in charge and conducted him to the lock-up. Here James became truly penitent and plead hard to be released, but Captain Graham, having witnessed so many cases of that nature, has lost all faith in such repentence, and could not be prevailed upon to "let up" in James' case, consequently he was provided with quarters in the lock-up.

Fatal Accident.

An accident occurred in Kittanning yesterday morning, resulting in the death of William Caffey, an employe on the Allegheny Valley Railroad as a brakeman. Mr. C. was in the act of coupling a car to the train, and attempted to jump from the rear car of the train to the one to be coupled, while the train was in motion. Missing his footing, he fell on the track and the wheel of one car passsed over him, breaking one leg at the thigh and tearing his left arm from the body at the shoulder. He lived about half an hour after the accident occurred. Coroner King empannelled a jury to hold an inquest on the body, but no verdict had been rendered when our informant left. Caffey was a resident of Beaver, and was about twenty-eight years of age.

Leg Broken.—Edward Jackman, son of Andrew Jackman, had his leg broken, yesterday, by falling from a velocipede. He was riding along Sixth street at a rapid rate when the skirt of his coat became entangled in the wheel of the "machine" capsizing it, throwing him violently to the ground. He was removed to the residence of his parents, when a surgeon was called and the fracture reduced.

LET US DISCUSS THE GREAT QUESTION.

What is the most important of all earthly blessings, in the estimation of every intelligent human being?

Clearly, it is HEALTH; for soundness of body and mind is essential to the enjoyment of all the other good gifts of Providence.

How, then, shall those who possess this inestimable treasure endeavor to preserve it, and how shall those who have lost it seek to relieve it?

These questions have been asked in all ages, but never have they been as satisfactorily responded to as at the present day, and the answers which common sense, enlightened by science and experience, gives to them in the Nineteenth Century may be briefly stated thus:

To protect the system against all influences that tend to generate disease, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE INVIGORATION.

To re-establish the health on a firm basis, when it has been lost by imprudence or any other cause, the system must be SIMULTANEOUSLY STRENGTHENED, REGULATED AND PURIFIED.

These ends can only be attained through the agency of a preparation which combines the attributes of a TONIC, a CORRECTIVE, a BLOOD DEPURENT, and an APERIENT.

All these essentials are effectually blended in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. They contain nothing drastic, irritating or inflammatory. The juices and extracts of sanative herbs, roots and barks are their sole medicinal ingredients, and these are rendered diffusible by combination with the spirituous essence of rye, the purest of all alcoholic stimulants.

The weak and feeble, and especially those suffering from biliousness, indigestion and nervousness, absolutely require the renovating aid of this powerful alterative during the heated term and cannot prudently postpone its use for a single day. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE MAN WHO LAUGHS; OR, BY THE KING'S COMMAND.
By VICTOR HUGO.

Complete in one vol., octavo, with Portrait on Steel, Paper cover, price, $1.25; in cloth, $1 75. Also the same, PART SECOND. Paper, octavo. Price, 75 cents.

"It may be there is perceptible in Victor Hugo, something too much of positive intention, of prepense application, of composition and forethought; what if there were? One question stands forth first and last—is the work done good work and great, or not? A lesser question is this—these that we find to be faults, are they qualities separable from the man's nature? Could we have his work without them? If not, and if his work be great, what will it profit us to blame them or to regret? First, at all events, let us have the sense to enjoy it and the grace to give thanks What, for example, if there be in this book we have spoken of errors of language, errors historical or social? Has it not throughout a mighty hold upon men and things, the godlike strength to grasp which only a great man can have of them? * * * If the style be overcharged and overshining with bright sharp strokes and points these are fireworks of any mechanic's fashion; these are the phosphoric flashes of the seafire running on the depth of the limitless and living sea. Enough, that the book is great and heroic, tender and strong; full from end to end of divine and passionate love, of holy and ardent pity for men that suffer wrong at the hands of men; full, not less of lyric loveliness and lyric force."—Charles Algernon Swinburne.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, August 23.—Dry Goods; the market on the whole is rather inert than otherwise, except for certain bulky of classes of goods which are offered at relatively very low prices, and the best are being bought more in consideration of the low rates of freight than any pressing wants of the trade. In the prices of staple Cottons there is no particular change to notice.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 23, 1869.

CTATTLE.

The market was pretty well glutted to-day, about 950 head on sale, which is the largest supply that has been on sale in this market for some time, and, as a consequence, the drovers had a pretty hard time of it, and many of them, it is probable, lost money. As has been the case for some time past, the great proportion of the stock was of an inferior grade consisting mainly of thin cows and heifers, and rough steers and stags, not the kind usually sought after by good butchers, and as a consequence, while the better grades brought about last week's prices, common and inferior ruled from ¼ to ½ cent lower, and even at the decline the demand was very light and quite a number were left over unsold.

Quite a number of drovers pronounced this the hardest market they had experienced for several months, and even good cattle did not move as quickly as usual. The butchers had very bad meat markets last week, owing to the extremely hot weather, and as a consequence they did not, as a general thing, buy as freely as usual. Another thing to be taken into consideration, is the fact that meat is relatively higher than anything else, and people are using less of it and buying more vegetables, fruit, etc. etc., which is abundant and cheap, and better for them, particularly in this hot weather. The idea of paying 20@25 cents per pound for choice cuts of beef when a half bushel potatoes, tomatoes or apples can be bought for the same money, does not sound well, and it looks now as if cattle must go lower, and this is the impression of drovers and dealers generally.

Of the cattle on sale to-day, 17 cars from Chicago; 3 from Cincinnati; 2 from Indianapolis; 2 from Newark; 1 from Upper Sandusky; 1 from La Rue; 1 from Ashley; 1 from Orrville and 1 from Columbiana. In addition, there were quite a number of State Cattle, from Washington, Butler, Green and Lawrence counties.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was also a full supply of sheep and lambs on sale, about 2,300 head, and with only a moderate demand, the market was very slow and dull, and the common grades ruled even lower than last week. Prime to extra fat sheep, as will be seen by reference to the report of sales, sold at from 4 to 5 cents per pound, and the best lambs brought $3@3,50 per head. The weather was hard on the sheep market, though when the number on sale is into consideration, the market held out even better than cattle.

M. Beighley sold 32 sheep—expected to average $3 per head.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

FARMERS' WIVES.

We can hardly blame young men and young women for disliking farm life, so long as we make it unattractive, even repulsive. We must make our houses neat and comfortable, and provided with books and papers. the yard and garden must be planted with shrubbery and choice trees; attention must be given to raising the better fruits and plenty of them; time must be given for occasional recreations; and labor must not be so hard and continuous as to make life seem an endless drudgery.

This is so especially with the ladies. ow can they be expected to desire the t of a farmer's wife, when they see their others bowed down prematurely with bor and care? Measures must be taken o lighten their burdens, or there will be fewer and fewer each year, who will consent to bear them. It would also be a great deliverance if they could be relieved from boarding hired men. Every large and prosperous farm demands the work of several hired laborers. These are generally boarded and lodged, washed and ironed by the farmer's family. Now it is no small task to provide three meals a day for such a lot of hungry men, as well as to do all the work demanded of women on such a farm. Then, aside from so much cooking and washing, these laborers have to be provided for out of working hours. They will occupy the kitchen and perhaps find their way into the family sitting room. But they are not always clean in their persons and dress, nor decorous in their manners, nor agreeable in their conversation. Now, it can hardly be expected that the wife and daughters will be contented and happy in such a state of things. They can have little or no leisure or privacy for reading, for agreeable or improving conversation, or receiving visitors. If they are contented with it, it only shows that they become willingly degraded, or have been broken down and humbled to their unwelcome t. Neither of which is a desirable ing.

Plainly enough, here is room for improvement. And one way to remove the difficulty last named is to hire these men boarded elsewhere, or to provide laborer's cottages for them on the farm, where they can board themselves. Such houses can be put up at a cheap rate, and one or two of them will probably answer for a farm; for the unmarried men can board with those who have families. These tenants can receive part of their wages in the shape of supplies from the farm. They can board and lodge themselves cheaper and more satisfactorily than the farmer's family can do it for them. It will certainly afford a great relief to the family, a relief which might well be bought by a slight decrease of the farmer's income. In the name of many thousands of farmer's wives and children, we plead for this reform.

TWO PLOWINGS BEFORE SEEDING.

In the regular rotation of this section, wheat follows oats. Immediately on the latter crop being taken off the ground, some farmers plough up the oats stubble before the ordinary spell of dry weather, nearly always sure to occur in the present month. Manure is then hauled on to the ground, spread and ploughed down, immediately preceding sowing the wheat. Others, however, without this primary sowing, commence hauling their manure over the field, which becomes well compacted, dry and hard; then spread it and plough in before seeding. In this dairy district our most important crop is undoubtedly the grass crop, comprising under this name both hay and pasturage; and it is therefore that the system of ploughing twice before seeding is strongly to be recommended, with a view to more thoroughly aerate the soil, and make a better bed for the reception of the grass seed.

It is a very common experience that grass always takes better after two ploughings. Our three crops in rotation may be said indeed to be made more in reference to the subsequent grass crop, than for any profit to the dairyman from his crop of corn, oats or wheat. Grass occasionally runs out, and is thought to require ploughing and re-seeding. If the fields could be well kept up in grass, without ploughing, it is a question whether it would not be more profitable for a dairy farmer, with a good run of custom, to buy all his corn, oats and wheat, instead of raising it.

Farmers do not seem ready to adopt our recommendations of ploughing twelve inches deep. If they would do so, so as to bring up some of what is called poor soil, it would be found their grass fields would remain much longer in grass, without needing ploughing up; but by all means, they should put in two ploughings before re-seeding.—Practical Farmer for August.

FRUIT ROBBING.

As the time for fruit is upon us, growers are suffering from the depredation of petty pilferers. But now under the act of 1860, the stealing of fruit from the trees or on the ground, is a serious offence, and the remedy is simple and prompt By that judicious and effective law, the wilful taking and carrying away of fruit, vegetables, plants, vines, shrubs, or trees, is made a misdemeanor punishable in the Court of Quarter Sessions, and rendering the offender liable to a fine of fifty dollars and an imprisonment for sixty days. The course of proceedings under this act is plain and easy. A complaint before any Alderman or Justice is all that any person has to do. The law will do the rest. This is the criminal remedy against the plunderer and damaging of gardens or yards, and it is the fault of the owners if they suffer.

DON'T KILL HIM.

You will sometimes find in your fields a large black beetle, wearing upon its broad back rows of most brilliant golden dots. Know that it is not to be destroyed. According to Dr. Fitch, the distinguished entomologist, its eggs produce the corn grub killer, that most inveterate foe of cut worms. It hunts them continually and feeds on nothing else, so long as the supply holds out. When it finds them in plenty it gorges and surfeits itself upon them, till so discontented that it hardly knows how to stir, for it never does respect a cut worm's desire to be "let alone." It grasps him with its strong jaws, and despite violent writhing and struggle, holds him fast. Plowman, spare the beetle.

COLIC IN HORSES.

Having recently had one of our horses with a severe attack of colic, we publish the following simple remedy, which afforded prompt relief. It was furnished us by Dr. McClure, the well known and skillful veterinary surgeon of this city, and which he informs us he has never known to fail. Having several hundred horses under his care, by the season, at our principal railroad and other stables, he has found this remedy so certain that he keeps a bottle of the mixture at the stables, having instructed the hostlers how to administer it in cases of colic and and to avoid the necessity of sending for him. It is as follows:

Aromatic spirit of ammonia, half an ounce;

Laudanum, one and a-half ounce.

Mix with one pint of water, and administer. If not relieved, repeat the dose.—Practical Farmer.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Utica Herald finds nothing equal as a destroyer of lice on cattle, to a strong suds of soap and rain water, to which is added common salt. This is applied by rubbing thoroughly over the animal.

HERE is an item worth remembering:

To Prevent Horses Being Teased by Flies.—Take two or three small handfulls of walnut leaves, upon which pour two or three quarts of cold water, let it infuse one night and pour the whole next morning into a kettle and let it boil for a quarter of an hour.—When cold it will be fit for use. No more is required than to moisten a sponge and before the horse goes out of the stable let those parts which are most irritable be smeared over with the liquor—viz: between and upon the ears, the neck, the flanks, &c. Not only the lady or gentleman who rides out for pleasure will derive benefit from the walnut leaves thus prepared, but the coachman, the wagoner, and all others who use horses during the hot months.

Peach Jam, or Marmalade.—The fruit for this preserve must be quite ripe and perfectly sound. Pare, stone, weigh, and boil it quickly for three quarters of an hour, and do not fail to stir it often during that time; draw it from the fire, and mix with it ten ounces of well-refined sugar, rolled or beaten to powder, for each pound of the peaches; clear it carefully from the scum and boil it briskly for five minutes; add the strained juice of one or two good lemons; continue the boiling for three minutes only, and pour out the marmalade. Two minutes after the sugar is stirred to the fruit add the blanched kernels of part of the peaches.

Tomato Catsup.—Take ripe tomatoes and scald them just sufficient to allow you to take off the skin; then let them stand for a day, covered with salt, strain them thoroughly to remove the seeds. Then to every two quarts add three ounces of cloves, two of black pepper, two nutmegs, and a very little Cayenne pepper, with a little salt. Boil the liquor for half an hour, and then let it cool and settle. Add a pint of the best cider vinegar, after which bottle it, corking and sealing it tightly. Keep it always in a cool place.

Another Way.—Take one bushel of tomatoes, and boil them until they are soft. Squeeze them through a fine wire sieve, and add—half a gallon of vinegar, one pint and a half of salt, two ounces of Cayenne pepper, three tablespoonsful of black pepper, five heads of garlic, skinned and separated. Mix together, and boil about three hours, or until reduced to about one-half. Then bottle without straining.

Apple Custard Pies.—Grate, or stew to a pulp, twelve large apples; to this add a teaspoonful of salt, sugar, nutmeg, three eggs well beaten, a pint of cream or milk and a tablespoonful of melted butter, the grated rind of two lemons and the juice of one; pour the mixture into plates lined with rich paste, and arrange strips in a network over the top; bake a light brown and sift over them powdered sugar.

To Increase the Sharpness and Strength of Vinegar.—Boil two quarts of good vinegar till reduced to one; then put it in a vessel, and set it in the sun for a week. Now mix the vinegar, with six times its quantity of bad vinegar, in a small cask; it will not only mend it, but make it strong and agreeable.

Removing Grease Spots out of Silk.—Take a lump of magnesia, and rub it wet over the spot; let it dry, then brush the powder off and the spot will disappear; or, take a visiting card, separate it, and rub the spot with the soft internal part, and it will disappear without taking the gloss off the silk.

Death to House Flies.—The following mixture is recommended as "sure death" to house flies: Half a spoonful of black pepper in powder, one teaspoonful of cream and a teaspoonful of sugar; mix them well together, and place them in a room where the flies are troublesome, and they will soon disappear. It won't cost much to try.

Derby Short Cakes.—Rub a half pound of butter into one pound of flour, and mix one egg, a quarter of a pound of sifted sugar, and as much milk as will make a paste. Roll this out thin, and cut the cake with any fancy shapes or the top of a wine glass. Place on tin plates; strew over with sugar, or cover the top of each with icing, and bake for ten minutes.

Canary Birds are sometimes covered with lice, which cause ill health and sometimes death. They can be effectually relieved of them by placing a clean white cloth over their cage at night. In the morning it will be covered with small red spots, so small as hardly to be seen, except by the aid of a glass; these are the lice, a source of great annoyance to birds.

A Cellar which opens inside a dwelling should be kept faultlessly clean all the year round as any other part of the house, because its atmosphere is constantly ascending and impregnates every room in the house with its own odors. In reality, there ought not to be any cellar under any dwelling.

Squeaking Boots or shoes are a great annoyance, especially in entering a sick room, or a church after the service has commenced; the remedy is, to boil linseed oil and saturate the soles with the same.

Blistered Hands and Feet.—The speediest remedy is to light a tallow candle and let the melted tallow drop in cold water, then mix the tallow with strong spirits and rub it thoroughly into the palms or soles; this is both a preventive and curative.

Food.—The most easily digested articles of food as yet known are sweet apples baked, cold raw cabbage sliced in vinegar, and boiled rice; the most indigestible are suet, boiled cabbage and pork; the former requires an hour, the latter five.

Graham Bread.—Take the unbolted flour of wheat, wet it with lukewarm waser, add salt and yeast, knead in enough more of this flour to make it stiff, add a little molasses, and when risen, bake in medium-sized loaves.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the tubercles, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which its preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 245 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each. But it is not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

White was sentenced for eighteen months, O'Neil for two years, and Gray, who is a colored boy, for eighteen months. They were safely lodged in the Penitentiary.

The Republican citizens of the 17th Ward, who through Col. Scott furnished a list of names to the County Executive Committee for appointments as a Local Committee, complain that in the general appointments as published. only about one third of the names given are included, and that the circumstances of the district demand a larger Committee. We doubt not the County Committee will promptly make the necessary corrections.

Union Charity Club.—The annual picnic of the Union Charity Club will take place, as previously announced, at Monitor Grove, to-morrow, (Wednesday) the 25th instant. Owing to the low stage of water the boat chartered for the occasion will not run. Trains will leave the Allegheny depot at the usual hours, by which ample facilities will be afforded to all who desire to attend. A pleasant time may be anticipated.

A Maniac.—Catharine Boyle, who was arrested on the street insane, a notice of which we published yesterday, was taken out by her friends, who thought she was getting better of her malady. Yesterday, however, it returned and she was more violent than ever. She became so unmanageable that it was found necessary to place her in confinement, and last evening she was brought back to the lock-up a raving maniac. She will probably be sent to Dixmont.

Pennsylvania Postoffices.—Another new office is established at Oak Shade, Bedford county, Pa., and M. A. Blackburn appointed Postmaster. Another new office is established at Lincoln Falls, Sullivan county, Pa., and J. Rogers appointed Postmaster. At Morris' Cross Roads, Fayette county, Martin V. B. Scott is appointed Postmaster, vice William Scott, Sr., resigned. At Bedford Springs, Bedford county, Pa., John Anderson is appointed Postmaster, vice Albert S. Allen resigned.

Slight Fire.—About half-past eight o'clock an alarm of fire was struck on the central bell, from box 37, corner of Second avenue and Try street, which was occasioned by a slight fire in Hardy's blacksmith shop, on Second avenue, between Ross and Try streets. The fire department responded promptly, but did not go into service, as the fire was extinguished by the application of a few buckets of water. The fire caught in the roof from sparks from the furnace. There was no damage done.

THE TEACHERS' WORK.

Pittsburgh Teachers' Institute—Second Annual Meeting—First Day's Proceedings Interesting and Instructive.

Yesterday afternoon, the Pittsburgh Teachers' Institute commenced its second annual session in the Hall of the Ralston school house, Penn street.

The number in attendance was quite large for the opening and promised well for the continuance of the sessions.

At half past two o'clock, the Institute was called to order by Prof. Luckey, City Superintendent.

Miss Jennie Ralston was appointed Secretary. The organization of the Institute was then proceeded with.

Prof. Burt presented a series of rules, which set forth the object of the Institute to be the promotion of a fraternal feeling among the teachers of Pittsburgh, and the adoption of such measures as would tend to better qualify them for their duties. Provision was made for permanent officers of the association, and the holding of annual meetings. The asessments were settled not to exceed five dollars for gentlemen, and two for ladies, annually, which was designed to defray the expenses of the Institute in addition to those provided for by the State Laws.

The rules, as read, were adopted.

PERMANENT OFFICERS.

Messrs. Hammond, and Stevenson, and Miss Caldwell were appointed a committee to nominate permanent officers. After a short absence the committee returned and presented the following nominations.

Vice Presidents, C. A. Kenaster and L. H. Eaton,

Secretaries Miss Ralston and Mr. Harrison.

Treasurer C. A. Kenaster.

Executive Committee, Prof. Andrew Burt, Mr. R. H. Kelley, Miss. Mary Proudfoot.

The report was received and the nominees unanimously elected.

Prof. Luckey made a few remarks upon the object of the Institute in relation to the teachers work. He said the teachers calling was one of great responsiblity, and those who engaged in it should take every opportunity to improve and fitly qualify themselves for its duties. If they wished to exert a proper influence in the community they must honor the profession by faithfully and conscientiously endeavoring to improve every opportunity for its elevation. The teaching of twenty years ago would not answer now. The world had advanced and knowledge was now more general. The teachers responsibilities and requirements were consequently rendered more onerous. He hoped that the object of the Institute in encouraging the teachers of Pittsburgh diffusing a more fraternal spirit among them, and in inaugurating a desire for greater excellence, would be felt in their future progress.

The Allegheny Quartette Club, under the leadership of Prof. W. B. Slack, now enlivened the occasion with a beautiful selection, entitled,

"Work for the night is coming."

DRAWING IN THE SCHOOLS.

A very interesting practical lecture, was next delivered by Miss Grace King, of Boston. The lady stated that her remarks would be merely preparatory to a series of lectures on this important branch of study, which she had been informed was greatly neglected in the Public Schools of Pittsburgh. She then gave a sketching outline of her method of teaching the beautiful science and closed by stating that in future lectures, the details would be more fully given.

Prof. James L. Harrison followed in a lecture about half an hour long, on the subject of English Literature, past and present. The lecturer strongly recommended more careful study of this important branch of study, on the part of the teachers, as a means of improvement and a source of delight. The lecture was finely written and contained many beautiful thoughts, which commanded the attention of the Institute throughout.

Prof. Slack, assisted by the members of the Institute, next sung with thrilling effect,

"My country 'tis of thee."

Prof. Burtt announced that the election of a Committee on Permanent Certificates would take place this morning, every member of the institute being allowed the privilege of voting.

Superintendent Luckey stated that the county allowed one dollar for every three teachers present at the Institute, and urged upon all the most earnest endeavors to secure the attendance of every teacher.

The roll was then called by the Secretary, Mr. Harrison.

Prof. Burtt stated that all friends of education, whether directors, teachers in private or public schools, might become members of the Institute by enrolling their names and paying the initiation fee required by the rules.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTES.

A discussion next ensued upon the question, "what should we seek to accomplish by means of the Teachers' Institute."

Prof. L. H. Eaton opened the discussion by remarking that Teachers' Institutes were beginning to assume an importance which in former times they had not, and in connection with their increasing importance the questions arose, how can they be made more effective, what shall be their main object. He thought the principal aim of every Institute should be to encourage the teacher, inspire them with a renewed love for their profession, inspire them with greater zeal and earnestness, and so improve every attendant in this respect, that when such a teacher returned to the school room the influence of the Institute would be felt there in greater efficiency. To carry out this object every one should attend for the purpose of being benefitted, and then they would engage in the exercises with the proper feelings and the result could not but be satisfactory.

Professor Luckey followed and said it had been his lot frequently to hear teachers complain about attending Institutes. He had often wondered at this, and upon inquiry among those dissatisfied, he discovered that one reason was urged that the affair was "too dry." In answer to this argument, however, he had never heard one teacher with a proper zeal for the calling or one who had engaged actively in the exercises, complain that the exercises were not interesting. The affair was in the hands of the teachers themselves, and they could make the Institute just what they pleased. It would be a failure if they were not interested. It would be a success if they did their duty.

Mr. Kelly said that one reason of the failure of Institutes could be directly traced to lectures, remarks, speeches, so styled, all of which were foreign to the teacher's work entirely. If the Institute was simply a place for the improvement of its members, then those subjects only which had special reference to their work should be treated of. Then the Institute could not fail of success.

Brief remarks on the same subject were made by Messrs. Patterson, Harrison and Prof. Burtt, after which the discussion closed.

Prof. Burtt announced the following hours for the sessions of the Institute: morning session, from 9 to 11½ o'clock; afternoon session, from 1½ to 4½ o'clock; evening session, from 7½ to 9½ o'clock.

Prof. Slack then sang,

"The Sweet by and by."

After which the Institute adjourned until 7½ o'clock.

Evening Session.

Commenced at the appointed hour.

The exercises were opened with a musical selection by Prof. W. B. Slack, accompanied by the audience, entitled

"Crown him Lord of all."

DISCUSSION RESUMED.

Prof. Burt stated it had been decided to postpone the lecture of Rev. Mr. Evans until Thursday evening, and substitute for it a discussion on the question, "what can be done to elevate teaching to the rank of the learned professions."

Prof. Burtt opened the discussion by stating that the first step in the matter would be to assume that it was such a profession. There was a time when nearly all the now so called learned professions were low in the scale, and only were raised first by an assumption that they were of a higher grade. The assumption being taken, it was then necessary that teachers act worthy of their claims. It thus became a matter with the teacher alone. Another help would be to secure some uniformity in the method of granting certificates, so that the aspirant would be compelled to put forth intellectual effort to secure a position, and then when a certificate was obtained it would be certainly a guarantee that the possessor was entitled to some rank in the profession. In elevating teaching also, a great deal of weeding would be required. All those not qualified should be stricken off the list. This also was a matter with the teachers themselves. They must demand of the County Superintendent that unqualified persons be rigidly excluded from getting certificates.

Superintendent Luckey followed in opposition to Prof. Burtt, and said that the greatest difficulty in the matter was that no county or city superintendent wished to exercise the one-man power, and strike off teachers whom they found in the possession of certificates.

Prof. H. S. Jones, of Erie, said teachers must not bow too low. Every teacher should say, "I'll teach with a polish," and if they did that they would gain a character, a reputation and rise in the profession. To do this, however, there must be love for the work; behind every action of the brain there must be a hearty loving impulse. The gentleman continued his remarks for some time in an entertaining manner.

The Allegheny Quartette Club sung, in their usual excellent style, a ballad entitled

"There's beauty in the summer flowers."

On motion a Committee on Finance, was appointed consisting of Mr. Andrews, Miss. Manspeaker, and Miss. Thompson.

Mr. R. Kelley, of Lawrenceville continued the discussion and dwelt for some time upon the matter of granting certificates, and contended that the grade of teaching was much higher than it was twenty years ago. Further remarks were made by Messrs. Burtt, Harrison and Andrews and Superentendent Luckey, which closed the discussion.

Rev. Wm. Evans next read "Pickwick's adventure with a lady in yellow curl papers" which was well received and created great merriment.

The Allegheny Quartette then favored the audience with another selection, entitled

"Sweet and low."

The Institute then adjourned until this morning at nine o'clock. The following is the programme for to-day:

Morning—Arithmetic, J. M. Pryor; The Theory and Practice of Teaching, A. Burtt; Gymnastics, W. G. Fox; History, Mrs. Anna T. Randall.

Afternoon—Arithmetic, Philotus Dean; Common Errors in the Use of Language, Miss Martha Glass; Gymnastics, W. G. Fox; Drawing, Grace King.

Evening—Lecture, Rev. Alex. Clark; Discussion.

United States Court—Judge McCandless.

In the Circuit Court yesterday morning the argument was heard on the motion for a new trial in the case of Sarah Gregory, executrix of R. A. Gregory, deceased, vs. P. R. Gray, et. al. The motion was overruled.

An argument was also heard in the equity case of George S. Head, vs. S. M'Clain, Jr., and Thomas Collins. Decision reserved.

In the case of H. B. Goodyear, et. al. vs. Andrew Fisher, a motion for a preliminary injunction was argued, and granted by the Court.

In the District Court, Mr. Carnahan, District Attorney, filed a libel against thirty barrels of spirits owned by Wm. Smith, of this city. The liquor was seized by Collector Davis for alleged violations of the revenue law. A monition was ordered, and made returnable on the 1st day of September next.

In the case of the United States vs. twenty-six barrels of whisky and ten barrels of brandy, owned by M. B. Weaver, of Williamsport, an order was issued, decreeing M. Einstein, of Philadelphia, as first informer. The Clerk was directed to pay over to Einstein, from the fund accruing from the sale, $1,138 15, and the balance, $1,822 35, to the Collector of the Eighteenth District.

On motion of District Attorney Carnahan, an order was granted for the removal of Benjamin Breon, now in the Allegheny county jail awaiting sentence for passing counterfeit money, to the Lycoming county jail.

Alleged Larceny.

John Brookbank started out on Sunday night to see the sights in the city, an undertaking which cost him about $60. It appears, according to his statement, that he went to a house in the Ninth ward, where James McKenna, a noted individual, holds forth, where he put up for the night, having $65 in his pocketbook. He alleges that he left the house next morning, in company with McKenna, with $60 in his pocketbook, which he placed in his pocket in the presence of McKenna. After proceeding some distance they were joined by John Schumaker, and the three visited several saloons together, where they drank freely. Finally his companions left him and he discovered that his pocketbook had left also. He secured the services of an officer and had McKenna and Schumaker arrested, and they were locked up for a hearing.

Steam Shears.—They boast of the largest in the county of Cleveland. The Herald says: The shears were built at the Globe Iron Works, on Elm street, and the immense size of the castings is good evidence of the capacity of these works. The whole machinery weighs upwards of 47,000 pounds, and has a crushing weight on the knife of over 191 tons. The balance wheel alone weighs three tons, and the big pinion wheel alone, which is nine feet in diameter, weighs over 8,000 pounds. A separate engine is attached to the body of the shears, and runs by itself. The power is almost unlimited; they will cut up a six-inch solid round iron without injury. We saw them cut the largest sized "T" railroad iron seemingly as easy as a tailor cuts up his woolens.

QUEENSWARE.

An Old Established House in a New Place—Imported and American Queensware and Where to Purchase.

It is always a pleasure to us to record the success and prosperity of business houses that were established in the infancy of our city, and have kept steadily growing with it into importance. Few among the old houses of this city, dating back their origin nearly half a century, have preserved a higher character and reputation than that of Messrs. H. Higby & Co., who have but recently removed their wholesale and retail salesrooms to No. 189 Liberty street, a few doors above Sixth, late St. Clair street. Established in A. D. 1828, it was the pioneer of the particular line of business, known under the caption of the queensware and crockery trade. True, prior to that period, plates and cups, saucers and chamber sets, were sold in the city; but no house had entered into the business as a marked and exclusive specialty until Mr. Higby, the senior of the present well conducted house, ventured in the direction. Other houses followed in the course of time, and to-day the queensware specialty forms no unimportant item in the commercial statistics of the city. It must be a matter of congratulation to Mr. Higby, who now presides over one of the most elegant as well as one of the best stocked houses of the character in the city, that through its long business history the house has maintained a name which has never been associated with anything but what was honorable; and that many of the original customers still bestow their patronage, and their children after them follow in their example, never having had occasion to change to elsewhere in their dealings. Mr. Albert Higby, the other member of the firm, brother of the senior, has also been long identified with the firm, and has charge of the active business management, making close study of what is needed by the patrons of the house and using much care and judgment in making his selections.

The firm recently obtained possession of the elegant and commodious four-story brick building at No. 189 Liberty street, and thoroughly refitted it to suit the requirements of their trade. Exteriorly it presents a very neat and commanding appearance, no tawdry ornamental work or cheap finish about it, but, like its occupants, firm and solid. The first floor is supplied with two fine display windows which are stocked with attractive articles of queensware, silver goods, flint glass ware, statuary and ornamental goods. This floor is the chief salesroom for wholesale and retail purchasers, and and in it will be found an almost endless assortment of fine imported wares, an enumeration of which would be impossible here. The casing or shelving, on either side, is of novel pattern, part original and part adopted, presenting a very chaste appearance. The counters are of new style known as pyramids, and are models of beauty, especially when graced with the fine French and English wares upon them. We noticed several French sets direct from Limoges, near Paris, which are so put together in pieces as to serve both for tea and dinner sets. The moss rose set on exhibition is especially worthy of note, being as pretty as any could desire to grace the boards. There are other beautiful sets which we might especially designate, but those of our readers interested should call and see and judge for themselves the merits and attractions of the stock. The counting room is on this floor, and is arranged with neatness and propriety. The second floor is occupied with a heavy stock of granite and glassware, while the third floor contains common goods and yellow crockery. The basement has been floored and is kept dry and clean. It is here that the goods in original crates are kept, and we found a large number awaiting opening which had just arrived. The basement is supplied with a large patent heating furnace, a fine bath tub and range for supplying hot and cold water throughout the building. The goods of the firm are received, packed and shipped from the rear of the salesrooms by way of an alley, and in order to escape the dust and dirt the shipping department, from basement to fourth floor, is provided with doors and partitions, by means of which all communication is shut off with the main body of the building. The advantage of this modern idea will be fully appreciated by those who know how much annoyance and damage to goods is caused by the dirt and dust which float in the air and settle in everything in the apartments while crates are being filled or emptied. On the whole the new house of the firm is a splendid one and could not well be better adapted to its purposes. The firm propose, as they have uniformly heretofore done, to keep a large and judiciously assorted stock of goods on hand wherewith to supply their wholesale and retail customers. They are content with reasonable profits, and making no false representations in any direction, confidently relying on still receiving that generous share of patronage hitherto awarded them by a discriminating community, and we hope for them such a large share of trade in their new place as is warranted by their enterprise and fair dealing.

Lost his Pocket Book.

Mr. Boyd, a merchant from Six Mile Ferry, while in the city on business yesterday morning lost his pocket book containing ninety five dollars. In the Diamond near where the pocket book was lost, Mr. Jacob Dingler who was employed in a store near at hand, states that he saw Mr. Martin, a young man from Turtle Creek, pick up a pocket book in the street. In justice to Mr. Martin we will state that he was arrested and thoroughly searched but no pocket book answering the discription of the one lost was found in his possessions. He was consequently discharged.

A Distressing Case.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In some of the morning papers of this (Monday) morning I find a statement under the above caption which is false in every particular and without foundation. Mr. Robert Whitton has not been shaved in my shop for over two months, and I learn on inquiry that he is suffering from a disease of the eye, not superinduced by arsenic as therein stated. I use no poisonous drugs in my business.

A. D. JOHNSON,
Proprietor Monongahela Shaving Saloon.
Pittsburgh, Monday, Aug. 23d, '69.

The Rioters.—A partial hearing was had yesterday before the Mayor in the Iron City Park riot case, an account of which we published some days since. Owen Sullivan, John Driscoll, William Rilling and James Lyons were discharged and John McCaffrey was held for a further hearing, which will take place at two P. M. to-day.

The Only Cool Spot in the city is Youngson's Ice Cream Saloon, corner of Diamond alley and Smithfield street. His cream excels all others. Take your lady around and try it.

Pathology.

(From the Pittsburgh Medical News.)

In a person whose growth is stationary the quantity of food passing into the body in a given time is exactly equivalent to the quantity of matter passing away in the various excretions.

The whole of the food is dissolved in the body, and the greater portion is absorbed into the blood to renew the tissues, the nourishment of the body being dependent upon this quality of the blood.

A rich blood favors nutrition and growth, whilst a diseased quality of blood depresses and destroys that which is already formed.

Whilst the blood thus gives out to each organ or part of the body the means of repairing itself, by furnishing it with material of growth, it at the same time washes away, as it were, whatever elements of their tissues that have become diseased, worn out or useless.

These are passed off in the excretions, and in healthy adults exactly correspond in amount with the quantity of food taken.

When the body becomes diseased the urinary excretion gives out these diseased particles in excess while the decline of the body is going on.

The same when any organ or part of the body only becomes diseased; the urinary excretion gives out an excess of diseased particles from that part, when a decay of that organ is going on.

These Urino-Pathological facts are so apparent, especially in chronic diseases, that every physician having the welfare of his patient at heart should, in prescribing remedies, watch their influence upon the urine, and persevere in that particular remedy which produces the most healthy condition of that fluid, for it points out with certainty the changes made in the condition of any and every organ of the body. These urino-chemical investigations have been our constant practice for more than twenty years. And we would just say, that they have revealed to us the existence of many serious diseases long before other modes of investigation had been able to indicate them, and have thrown a flood of light upon the cause, progress and treatment of many chronic diseases which would otherwise have been involved in much obscurity at least, and perhaps never have been cured without.

Readers, if any of you have incipient Consumption, organic disease of the Liver, Kidneys or Spleen, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Dropsy or Scrofula; or should your complaint be at all obscure in its character, or should you be in any doubt as to the true cause of a decline in your health, or of the aches, pains, derangements, difficulties, and weaknesses under which you may be laboring unto decay, have the examination scientifically made, and secure the remedies thus scientifically prescribed.

L. OLDSHUE, M. D.

Damage by Lightning in Washington County.

The barn, stable, corn crib and spring house of Thos. M. Patterson, an extensive farmer residing in Cross Creek township, Washington county, seven miles southeast of Burgettstown, were totally destroyed by fire on Saturday evening last. The stable was struck by lightning and the other buildings took fire from it. The buildings, except the barn, were erected within two years, and the barn was very large. Mr. Patterson, who, with another person, was in the stable when it was struck, is suffering considerable pain from the shock. No horses were lost, but everything else was burnt that would be on a first class farm, from a mowing machine to a hay fork, three buggies, one spring wagon, and the larger portion of his wool, hay, grain, &c. There were no rods on the building. Loss from eight to ten thousand dollars.

Leaves for Europe.

Thomas Costamagna, Esq., late of the Steubenville Herald, and formerly business manager of the GAZETTE under its previous ownership, a gentleman widely known and esteemed in the general business community, will leave New York to-day for Turin, Italy, whither he goes to settle the estate of his father, an eminent banker of that city, who recently died. Mr. Costamagna will go by way of London and Paris, and promises to furnish the readers of the GAZETTE with sketches by the wayside from his graceful and refined pen, a task for which he is admirably fitted, as he is a linguist of ability, being able to converse in nearly all the polite languages spoken in Europe, and thus will be enabled to gather much interesting matter and gossip which would escape the ordinary traveler. We wish him a safe journey and speedy return to our own city where he leaves so many friends and acquaintances.

The Stabbing Affray.

Our readers will remember the particulars of the stabbing affray which occurred in Reserve township a few days ago. Conrad Schnessler, the man accused of the stabbing, was arrested and jailed, but managed to secure bail which procured his release Saturday. Forthwith he, in turn, instituted proceedings before Alderman Koenig against his accusers, Geo. Knockel and James Morton for assault and battery with intent to kill. In substance he alleges Knockel caught him by the throat, and struck him in the face and on various parts of his body a number of times with his fist, while Morton aided the attack by striking him with a pitchfork, injuring him severely. The accused were arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

Alleged False Pretence.

John Eibel and John Gamble, residents of the Fourteenth ward, had a horse trade Saturday afternoon which seems to have been of a rather unsatisfactory character. Eibel bought the animal described as a white horse for forty-four dollars, on the representation, he alleges, that it was sound and perfect. Subsequently, he states, he found the reverse to be the case. So dissatisfied did he finally become that he lodged information yesterday, before Alderman Koenig, against Gamble for false pretence. Warrant issued.

Popular.—Decidedly one of the most popular houses in the city is Moorhead's trimming establishment, No. 81 Market street. This is explained by the fact that customers are always treated with the greatest courtesy and have the benefit of selecting from a large and fashionable stock, always consisting of the very latest novelties. We know of no place in the city which we can more conscientiously recommend to purchasers.

Grand Picnic.—A grand picnic will be held at Mansfield Wednesday, the 25th inst., for the benefit of the new Catholic church at that place. The affair is in the hands of a Committee who will leave nothing undone calculated to add to the enjoyment and pleasure of those who participate.

Youngson, corner of Diamond alley and Smithfield street, has the best Ice Cream in the city. Large saucers and made of the best country cream.

The language of nature and experience demonstrates that whoever would enjoy the pleasures of food, the beauties of landscape, the joys of companionship, the riches of literature, or the honors of station and renown, must preserve their health. The effect of foul, injurious food, entering the stomach, is to derange the digestive organs and produce headache, loss of appetite, unrefreshing sleep, low spirits, feverish burnings, etc., which are the symptoms of that horrid disease, Dyspepsia, which assumes a thousand shapes, and points toward a miserable life and premature decay. PLANTATION BITTERS will prevent, overcome and counteract all of these effects. They act with unerring power, and are taken with the pleasure of a beverage.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T.F.

Oyster Crackers.—Good oysters with good crackers are certainly a luxury. As the oyster season will commence in a few days, we wish to inform our readers where to buy their crackers. S. S. Marvin, No. 91 Liberty, enjoys the reputation of making the best crackers to be found in this city. Wholesale and retail grocers should remember to buy Marvin's. Parties buying for their family use from their grocers should ask for Marvin's and take none other. Marvin's house is at 91 Liberty street.
